

Pipeline safety resources for your county

Phillips 66 Pipeline LLC owns and operates pipelines across the United States. You're receiving this email because Phillips 66 operates a pipeline in your county.

Dear Emergency Management Official,

At Phillips 66, having safety as our top priority means being prepared for a pipeline emergency, no matter how dedicated our prevention efforts are. Emergency responders are the first boots on the ground in any emergency, and they're the ones Phillips 66 will be working with, shoulder-to-shoulder, in the event of a pipeline incident.

With this in mind, we provide resources and supports training for those who would be called upon to respond in the event of an incident. Please access, use and share the resources below with emergency response organizations in your county.

For more information about the ways Phillips 66 works with emergency responders, or to speak with a Phillips 66 representative, please contact us at 1-800-231-2566.

Emergency Response Action Plans

Phillips 66 maintains written emergency response action plans for each of its areas of operation, provided to emergency responders upon request.

National Preparedness for Response Program

Our company participates in this program, which includes notification drills, tabletop exercises and area-wide drills that serve to evaluate emergency response plans.

Pipeline emergency response training

We also promote free, online pipeline training that covers the basics of pipeline emergency response.

You are receiving this email because you are responsible for emergency management in a county where Phillips 66 Pipeline LLC operates a pipeline.