GastroNorm Perforated Food Pans

QUICKER DRAINING. The ridged design allows liquids to drain to the base pan much more quickly. This means faster thawing times too.

MEAT AND FISH. For the correct preservation of foods that release liquids perforated food pans must be used. They keep exudates separate from the food itself, this way reducing levels of product wastage.

FOOD STAYS FRESH LONGER. In handling processes and display of fruit and vegetables, the liquids released do not come into contact with the food.

Polycarbonate is a transparent material with very good impact resistance.

It enables the quick visualization of a container's contents, identifying the food and its condition.

BETTER PRESERVATION AND FOR LONGER. There is sufficient space under the perforated base to ensure that liquids never come into contact with food.

EASY TO LIFT OUT. The perforated food pan remains separate from the edge of the non-perforated food pan during stacking. This position makes it easy to lift out and handle.

Universal Contact Lids

Airtight Lids

LID ADJUSTMENT. These perforated food pans are compatible with ARAVEN's lid system.

Optimum performance at very low temperatures (-40°C), even able to withstanding a bain-marie (+ 99°C).

Can be washed in dishwasher. Its special design prevents the accumulation of remnants and facilitates cleaning.
