

CALL FOR Virtual Show ENTRIES

Entry Deadline, October 15 Midnight, 2022

Judging by CCWS Members

Mid-September announces that summer is almost behind us and it is time to start changing our painting focus for the next season. Autumn, which is a favorite season of the year. Fall is a perfect time for all water media paintings. Why, you might ask. Let's look at two adjectives that are used with the autumnal season.

The first of these is the adjective "vivid". The meaning is bright-colored, brilliant, glowing strong, bold, flamboyant and eye-catching. The second is the word "kaleidoscopic" which means multicolored, many-hued, variegated, rainbow, or looking like an explosion of your paint supply. Both of these adjectives fit a watercolor palette like a glove.

Purpose: The Autumn CCWS Virtual Show for Members Only presents the best in watermedia painting, representing a wide range of subject material and techniques, from experimental to traditional, and encourages support for watermedia painting as a vital, enduring and expressive medium.
