The CCWS General Meeting on Tuesday, March 31, features local artist and CCWS member John Klippenstein with a presentation about his work as a plain air artist. Join us for a sure-to-be informative session.

John Klippenstein is a self-taught watercolor artist who has been painting since the 1990's. He loves to capture the beauty of nature in his paintings. Plein Air painting is his forte and he paints the California coast, with an emphasis on the Central Coast, the surrounding mountains and the countryside. He also paints deserts and urban scenes.

One of John's passions is surfing. His surfing adventures have taken him to many corners of the world including Mexico, Central and South America, Australia, New Zealand, the South Pacific, and Indonesia. The picturesque scenery of these travel destinations has provided the inspiration for many of his paintings.

John lives in Morro Bay, California.

Presentation at 1:30, SLO UMC Wesley Room, 1515 Fredericks St., SLO.
