CBD

It is most commonly used to treat chronic pain, anxiety, inflammation, and insomnia.

CBC

Supports the body's supply of endocannabinoids responsible for modulating stress, pain, appetite, and reducing inflammation.

CBDV

Supports healthy mood and sociability, brain health and memory, and eases temporary nausea and discomfort after exercise.

CBG

Works to fight inflammation, pain, nausea, bowel disease, Crohn's disease, and works to slow the proliferation of cancer cells. It also significantly reduces intraocular eye pressure caused by glaucoma.

CBN

Offers relaxing, sleepy properties, which means your sleep might be more restful.

CBDA

Offers anti-cancer, anti-viral, inflammation support, mood disorders, and nausea.

HHC

HHC can keep your high blood pressure in check. HHC also provides a significant boost of energy and uplifts your mood. HHC is sometimes used to help with pain relief, inflammation, and anxiety. Some people also use it to improve their sleep.

DELTA 8

Delta 8 can produce feelings of euphoria and uplifted mood and calmness, and relaxation.
