JUST A GIRL YOU USED TO KNOW

Verse 1
Saw you Friday at the corner store
Her hand in yours like mine before
You smiled and asked me how I'd been
Like we were just a couple old friends

She wore your jacket, the faded blue
The one I used to steal from you
I smiled back, said I was fine
Then cried the whole way home that night

Chorus

I'm just a girl you used to know
A chapter you closed a year ago
She's making all the memories
That I thought would belong to me
You found a love, I lost my home
And I'm just a girl you used to know

Verse 2
Does she know you hate the morning rain?
That you sing off-key to George Strait?
Does she know that scar above your eye
Came from that Fourth of July?

I wonder if you ever say my name
Or if you've put our pictures away
Funny how a love that felt so real
Can turn into something you don't feel

Chorus

I'm just a girl you used to know
A chapter you closed a year ago
She's making all the memories
That I thought would belong to me
You found a love, I lost my home
And I'm just a girl you used to know

Bridge

I still remember everything
The little things, the way you'd sing
You let go like it was nothing
I'm still holding on to something

Final Chorus

I'm just a girl you used to know
A chapter you closed a year ago
She's making all the memories
That I thought would belong to me
You found yourself a future
I'm still learning to let go
And I'm just a girl you used to know

Outro

Once I was your whole world
Now I'm just a girl you used to know.
