Burn the Mountain

(Verse 1)

The ashes fall like snowflakes in the night,
Wounds too deep for any kind of light.
We've come to the end of a road so long,
Where the earth trembles and the wind's gone wrong.
Beneath the weight of a world in pain,
The silence speaks of what remains.

We've lost our way, we've lost our fight,
And all that's left is this endless night.
But through the darkness, there's a spark,
A prayer to heal this broken heart.

(Chorus)

Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.
Pray to the heavens above,
And send all your love.
Burn the mountain to conceal your tears,
Put to rest all your fears.
You'll no longer hear the babies cry,
Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high.
It's the only peace you'll find,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.

(Verse 2)

The fires rage, they consume it all,
Memories fade like a distant call.
Beneath the flames, the past is erased,
The scars of a world we can't replace.
We've walked through the ashes, we've felt the pain,
But with every loss, there's something to gain.

From the depths of sorrow, we rise above,
Burning the mountain with endless love.
We'll find the peace we've sought for so long,
In the ashes where the lost belong.

(Chorus)

Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.
Pray to the heavens above,
And send all your love.
Burn the mountain to conceal your tears,
Put to rest all your fears.
You'll no longer hear the babies cry,
Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high.
It's the only peace you'll find,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.

(Bridge)

Through the flames, we've come undone,
The battle's lost, the war is won.
A thousand tears, a thousand cries,
And all we can do is watch the skies.

We ask for mercy, we seek the light,
For those we've lost in the endless night.
Burn the mountain, burn it down,
Let the ashes fall upon this broken ground.

(Verse 3)

The wind whispers songs of the ones we've lost,
Their voices call us, no matter the cost.
We'll carry them with us, through fire and flame,
Their memory lives on, forever their name.
The mountains fall, the earth will quake,
But in this sorrow, we will never break.

We rise again, from dust we are born,
With broken hearts, but never torn.
Burn the mountain, and let it burn,
For in this loss, we will return.

(Chorus)

Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.
Pray to the heavens above,
And send all your love.

Burn the mountain to conceal your tears,
Put to rest all your fears.
You'll no longer hear the babies cry,
Burn the mountain, so souls can fly high.
It's the only peace you'll find,
Burn the mountain to say goodbye.

(Outro)

And when the flames have settled low,
We'll find the peace we used to know.
Burn the mountain, burn it bright,
And let the souls take their flight.
Burn the mountain, let it go,
In the ashes, love will grow.
