2021 Classes and Events Schedule

It's been a long time, but I'm baaaackk!!! March 2020 was my last class because the world fell apart, but I'm happy to say that classes are finally back up and running and vending has started up again! Woohoo! Feels good to be getting out there, again!

A Facebook note: they've changed the way business pages work and it's become a royal pain. I'm still using it as best as I can, but it's rough going. They took away the EVENTS tab to all of the pages that they've switched over to the NEW version. So, I've pinned my website link to the top of my Facebook posts and you can find a schedule of my classes and events there. Hopefully things get figured out soon. Otherwise, you're always welcome to visit my website at Classes and Events.

This year marks my second year as Vice President at Sackets Harbor Arts Center and the end of my term after this season. It was interesting and I learned a lot, but I wish the pandemic wouldn't have ruled it mostly useless. lol I did actually accomplish a lot though. I got them set up with online booking for their classes, cleaned up the classroom, designed new business and rack cards, started a formal Newsletter, started a Members Only group, and the Fantasy Art Show, so I'm still pretty proud of everything I've accomplished there in such a short time. Fun times!

I'm still working part-time at Focal Point Custom Framing in Watertown and loving it. I have some paintings there, along with some other local artists, so you should stop over and check them out some time! We're open Monday - Friday 9:00-4:30 and Saturdays 10-1 (unless it's a holiday weekend). Tracy and I decided it would be nice for me to do some classes there, so I've set up one a month for the rest of the year at this point. If it works out ok, we may add more.

As far as classes go, I've also scheduled one monthly class at Lyme Library for the rest of the year too. Depending on the current Covid status, we may add more.

In other good news, I've purchased a sublimation printer and am learning vector images so I can print on things like shot glasses, mugs, t-shirts, breakaway lanyards, mousepads, all sorts of stuff! As soon as I get it figured out, I'll be getting it all on my website and bringing merch vending with me!

Hopefully, we will have good weather again this year!

There will be two walking routes to choose from again this year, a 3/4 mile walk and a 2 mile walk!

You DON'T have to own a dog to join us for this event! You simply must LOVE dogs!

Individual online pre-registration will become available in the near future, so please check back with us for the link!"

~*I'm still waiting to hear if/when the Northpole Firehall show will happen this fall. JCC is one week earlier than normal because that's the only Saturday that JCC had available. I'm hoping that if it does happen, it won't be the same weekend, but I'll keep you posted.
