

The Gardener and the Golfer

When regenerative farm fields meet suburban lawns & land use
A One-Woman Show National Tour

What the play is about:

Mary and Bill are next door neighbours. She's a regenerative farmer and avid gardener and he's a hedge fund manager and avid golfer. They find themselves in a feud about land use and climate change. Eventually they reach some common ground, realizing that an "us and them" approach is not productive.

Dale Colleen Hamilton comes from a farm family in southern Ontario where she lives on her 16 acres near Guelph. She has written and produced theatre for over 40 years and has a Masters in Environmental Studies. Dale recently completed a successful national tour (including a performance for the Canadian Senate) of her one-woman show about regenerative farming and climate solutions. Her new show is aimed at urban & suburban audiences.
