

Italy's most important magazine of the graphic arts (pre-press, conventional and digital printing, paper and card converting and bookbinding), publishing and communication

Rassegna Grafica keeps readers updated on new developments in the graphic arts, publishing and communication sectors. Features cover evolving trends and technology innovation. Case histories present solutions implemented in advanced centres of production and show their operating structures. The magazine dedicates special focuses on previews and reports of the principal events and trade fairs in the sector. A dedicated area deals with offers and requests for employment and used machinery. The contents of the publications can be found on the portal www.printpub.net the real-time updated source of information.
