

DHWANI GOYAL

Button Masala Intern- 2021

About me

Hi, i am Dhvani , a 12th grade student currently pursuing the ISC curriculum at Welham Girls' School, Dehradun. Button Masala is a beautiful concept that breaks the usual norms of design. It is a joyful, meditative, and hassle-free method to stay engaged while being productive and creative.

In this pursuit of creation, I have constantly been intrigued by the eternally existing pattern of unique objects and things that we observe. The compulsive desire to create something is what leads me forward and Button masala helped me come closer to attaining this. I am indeed thankful to my mentor, Mr. Anuj Sharma for his guidance and this opportunity to work and learn under him.

Skills & expertise

Sustainable art

Application of Button
Masala techniques

Creative thinking

Photogr aphy

Internship Portfolio

Button Masala - BmOi16

I apprenticed at Button Masala. I worked for four weeks, starting on June 1, 2021 till July 1, 2021. In this duration, I took several responsibilities as an intern and proved to be an efficient member of the team.

Nail polish

Beads

Flat Beads

Smiley Badges

Paint
Bottles

Assignment 1

I found some material which were available at home and could be used.

Objects used:

I emphasized on the importance of sticking to sustainable objects only so I used empty paint bottles, empty nail paint bottles, beads, smiley badges, CD's etc.

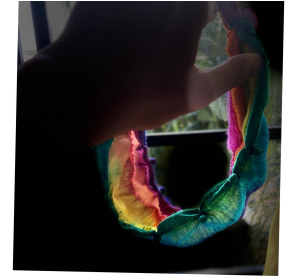

Assignment 2

I tried to use the given objects and created an abstract piece on a piece of cloth. I added some smiley badges (big) along with some smaller beads.

Assignment 3

I was able to make a few headbands out of cloth using the small beads and rubber bands. I also tried to play with the position of the beads to create a pattern for the wrist band.

Assignment 4

I managed to convert a discarded piece of 1 metre cloth into a crop top and a skirt using the Button Masala techniques. I was able to give the skirt a unique look making some patterns in the front.

Contact

Dhwani Goyal

dhwani@anandslg.com

