FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Radio Release of "I Am" by Avery Stafford: 20 Years in the Making

Gospel/R&B singer will expand his radio release catalog with a beautiful praise and worship song.

Portland, OR— Avery Stafford fans will be thrilled with this exciting announcement! Avery's newest Gospel radio release, "I Am," is a dynamic song written and first recorded in 1995—20 years ago. Fans of Stafford's a cappella praise and worship music will likely be familiar with it. What better way to celebrate this beloved song than by releasing its radio edit on February 14, Valentine's Day?

The song was first introduced to churches in the mid-1990s, particularly in the U.S. Pacific Northwest, where some Christian congregations incorporated it into their worship services. Although Avery recorded an instrumental version for his 2004 album, Undignified, the track has never been released as a single until now!

"I Am" is a beautifully crafted praise and worship song that describes God's presence in the cosmos, in nature, and within the hearts of human beings. Its melody is easy to sing, and the catchy chorus is memorable. The performance features Avery's signature soulful vocal lead and harmonies, accompanied by bass vocalist Tim Storms, who holds Guinness World Records for both the lowest note produced by a human and the widest vocal range. A delightful surprise for listeners is the heavenly flute arrangement skillfully played by Tony Bolivar, a regular collaborator on Stafford's albums. Additionally, the gospel choir elevates the vocal performance to another level! These elements make "I Am" a highly anticipated addition to Avery's catalog of radio releases.

Radio promotions for "I Am (Radio Edit)" began in early January through GospelRadioPromo.com. The official release date is February 14, 2025, and the single will be available on Spotify, Apple Music, Deezer, and all major online music services. DJs and radio managers can obtain a high-resolution copy of the song by contacting Avery Stafford Music at <https://averystafford.com/contact>.

Christian worship leaders are encouraged to consider "I Am" for their worship services. Avery is offering his studio music chord chart for free to any worship leader who requests it. To get your free chord chart, contact him at <https://averystafford.com/contact>.
