HEALTH & SAFETY TRAINING

Hinds Safety provides HSE training in classroom, on site and online. We create and facilitate our own 100% by Hinds Safety training courses. With many years of industry experience, a substantial amount of education and a sense for Health & Safety, Hinds Safety set out to create industry leading training courses.

Hinds Safety believes that providing training is essential to growth, yet in a way that appeals to the audience is the best approach. We do not want to take up 8 hours of your day for a training course unless there is that amount of content to go over.

All industries require training, construction and Oil & Gas are two industries that require proper training more so than other industries. Why fall victim to Hindsight? Hinds Safety can conduct training in the evenings and weekends and has a robust online catalog of courses as well. We accommodate and are flexible because we understand the industry isn't as understanding! The level of training and passion behind each course is like none other.

Hinds Safety has since incorporated Zoom into the arsenal of training availabilities for any of the classroom lead courses and can provide a practical examination afterwards.

In classroom courses consist of courses such as:

- Incident Management
- Hazard Identification and Control
- Alberta Fall Protection
- Confined Space Entry & Monitor
- Elevated Work Platform

For our online training courses, they have been created by professional establishments. Using the Training Matrix, you can upload your organization's unique company roles and training topics, set training requirements and the courses that satisfy them, and quickly assign training to thousands of employees. Many system matrices take extensive time and effort to set up. Ours can be set up in three easy steps:

1. Enter your company's roles and training topics.
2. Specify courses that satisfy the training topics.
3. Set training as required or optional based on an employee's company role and location.

Getting the best from the employees you hire starts with the new hire orientation. Easily Build Your Own Online Orientation. Using our orientation and course building engine you can create a playlist of:

- Images
- Video
- Slideshows
- HTML5 Activities
- and more

You can even use a mobile device to take photos and video on your work sites and upload everything into your orientations.

Are you looking for online software that can help to administer, track, manage, and report on almost every aspect of your company's safety program? Our safety management system allows you to utilize digital site inspection forms, field level hazard assessments, online storage of all safety documents and files, equipment and asset management, preventative maintenance reports, and more.

With the capability to run reports and get real information, it really does make life so much easier. Solid reporting features should be the backbone of any incident management software. Not only do these allow you to gain an overview of the incidents that have already occurred, they also enable you to zero in on specific areas of your company that might be particularly at risk of safety incidents. Track incidents and identify trends, understand why, when and where incidents occur. Collect comprehensive incident data, create an accurate picture of the event, identify root causes and learning points, implement corrective actions, and ensure proper incident notification up the chain of command.
