1915 FOUNDING A MOVEMENT

By the age of 18, Henry Giessenbier Jr. formed the Herculaneum Dance Club, a social outlet for the community's youth. Unknown at the time, Giessenbier was laying the foundation for what would become a global movement. On October 13, 1915, the first JCI Movement was founded when 32 men joined to form the Young Men's Progressive Association (YMPCA) at the Mission Inn located in their hometown of St. Louis, USA.

1917 ST. LOUIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EMBLEM

The Young Men's Civic Progressive Association members received acknowledgement from the broader community, however on November 30, 1915 official recognition of the organization was granted after enrolling as a member of the Mayor's Conference of Civic Organizations. One year later, the YMPCA became known as the Junior Citizens and soon the Junior Chamber of Commerce, after affiliating with the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.
