Every Child Deserves to Be Heard

Supporting schools to strengthen safeguarding, promote emotional wellbeing and provide structured early intervention.

A Child's Voice® provides early intervention, suicide prevention and self-harm support for schools. We partner with safeguarding and pastoral teams to help children feel heard, understood and supported, promoting positive wellbeing and development.

A SAFEGUARDING TOOL

Designed over years to help keep children safe

Built on clinical research and informed by social work practice, A Child's Voice® helps schools hear what children are really saying, spot concerns early, and respond safely.

How we support schools?

Four ways to work with us. The A Child's Voice Model offers suicide prevention and self-harm support programmes designed to fit into school life, complementing your existing safeguarding and pastoral support.

1-1 INTERVENTION

A 10-week, 1-to-1 programme delivered in school by our Wellbeing Services team for children and young people aged 8 to 17.

RESOURCES FOR SCHOOLS

A ready-made safeguarding resource for teachers, featuring 10 weeks of downloadable PSHE lessons, lesson plans and worksheets, ready to use in the classroom.

MENTAL HEALTH AMBASSADOR TRAINING

A 10-week programme delivered by our Wellbeing Services team, featuring weekly Zoom sessions for small groups of up to four young people aged 13 to 17.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

Training for teachers to confidently deliver the 1-1 A Child's Voice model to children and young people in their school.

What schools gain:

For children: Space to be heard, with early support.

For staff: Clear resources and training they can use.

For families: Joined-up support with the school.

Early intervention, not a crisis service:

A Child's Voice complements, but does not replace, school safeguarding procedures or urgent mental health support. Always following safeguarding policies and ensuring delivering staff are appropriately checked, trained and experienced.

Why schools choose us

Safeguarding at the centre:

Every programme is designed to work within your school's own policies.

Fits the school day:

Ready-made lessons and clear plans save staff time.

Flexible ways to work:

Explore our programmes, license our resources, or train your team.

A voice people trust:

Featured on BBC Radio Kent for community impact.

"A Child's Voice programme has done more for my child in 10 weeks than children's and mental health services have done in 4 years. The support, understanding and guidance have truly made a difference in her life."
