Texas Sisters Press, LLC is owned by, you guessed it, two sisters from Texas! LM Mann and C.J. Peterson are co-owners of this publishing company.They formed this press for a couple reasons. The main reason was that they are in it to give authors a fair shot at publishing. They firmly believe in the theory that "we are all in this together." Another reason is to put out quality books for readers. The experience of getting lost in a book is lacking in today's society. So, they put out books to spark the imagination for readers of all ages to enjoy! Browse through the covers of our books below, then click on the Texas Sisters Press Author's Page to find where to get more books by that author!
