North Carolina student was planning mass shooting at university (28AUG19)

"Due to the diligence of the students who reported this and the swift response of HPU security, the firearms were confiscated, and the matter was turned over to the High Point Police Department," the university said in a statement. "HPU Security and HPPD appreciate that students reported finding the firearms to HPU staff. HPU encourages students to follow the rule of "If you see something, say something."

Citizens Reporting

FBI and local law enforcement rely on your tips to help prevent mass shootings - Aug 05, 2019

Retired FBI agent and Allan Hancock College Political Science professor, Dan Payne, says there are several measures in place to stop potential mass shootings. He says, at the end of the day, it all comes down to help from the public. "What they depend on a lot is public input.

Someone says this person is talking crazy, he has a hit list of people, he is amassing firearms, he is amassing ammunition. These types of information filter into the FBI," said Payne.

Are we Safer Now than 2001?

The U.S. Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee recently held a field hearing titled “18 Years Later: The State of Homeland Security after 9/11”

Sen. Gary Peters (D-MI) is ranking member of that committee. He says it was a way to both reflect on the terrorist attack as well as how we make sure something like it doesn't happen again. Peters also says that the scope of terrorism is much different in 2019 than it was in 2001. “It's not foreign terrorism,” he says. “What we're seeing right now is primarily domestic terrorism. We've seen the rise of white supremacist activity, not just in the United States, but around the world.”

What is iWATCH

An Education and Reporting Program that is endorsed by police chiefs across the U.S. which teaches people how to detect suspicious behavior and encourages them to report it.

Always Ready. Always Alert.

Because someone is depending on you.

Unclassified

iWATCH Began

iWATCH was first developed by the Los Angeles Police Department to encourage and enable members of the community to help protect their community by identifying and reporting suspicious behavior known to be associated with terrorist activities.

According to the San Jose Mercury News June 3 edition, when iWATCH was first revealed in October 2009, then-LAPD Police Chief William Bratton said it was "intended to be the next evolution of keeping America safe..."

Always Ready. Always Alert.

Because someone is depending on you.

iWATCH Evolves

iWATCH quickly spread across the United States and the concept was adopted by the federal government and law enforcement agencies across the country. The United States Army was no exception.

This nationwide campaign creates partnerships between military and civilian organizations. Particularly in information sharing. Such information or cooperation may reveal a piece of the puzzle that thwarts a terrorist plot.

Consequently, iWatch empowers Soldiers, civilian employees, contractors, their family members, as well as civilian visitors with protecting places where they live, work and play.

Always Ready. Always Alert.

Because someone is depending on you.

iWATCH Focus

LA iWATCH Poster

iWATCH program is a modern, 21st Century version of neighborhood watch designed to enable members of the public to help protect their communities by identifying and reporting suspicious behavior that is known to be associated with terrorist activities.

The primary focus of iWATCH is to integrate terrorism prevention and suspicious activity reporting.

iWATCH Marketing Materials

USACE iWATCH Poster

The iWATCH program is designed to be easily adopted by agencies nationwide.

The marketing materials, which include the iWATCH brand, a community training video, Public Service Announcements (PSAs), brochures and posters, are available for any organization or community, and they can create an iconic image that can become the umbrella program for the nation.

Trust Your Instincts

We rely on our senses every day of our lives. If a behavior or activity makes you feel uncomfortable, report it!

Here are some examples of suspicious activities reported by concerned individuals that saved lives:

A video store clerk saw anti-American material on a DVD he was asked to copy. Police captured and arrested individuals planning an attack against a military installation.

If it doesn't LOOK right, report it!

A grandmother smelled bad odors from the neighboring apartment and noticed that the empty apartment was frequented by various people. Police discovered a poison gas factory.

If it doesn't SMELL right, report it!

Residents were concerned with a person's threats of violence. Police captured and arrested a group planning a subway attack.

If it doesn't SOUND right, report it!

What Should I Report?

Give as many details as you can. Here is a checklist to help you.

1. The date and time.
2. Where it happened.
3. What you witnessed.
4. A description of who was involved
 - Male or female?
 - How tall?
 - Build?
 - Hair color, skin color, age?
 - English speaking or another language?
5. Was there a car? Note the license plate number.
6. Have you seen this activity in your neighborhood before?

How Do I Report?

There are [three] ways to make a report:

- ★ Call [insert phone number]. An expert will answer the call and advise you.
- ★ Call your local military police station [phone number] and make your report to the desk officer.
- ★ In an emergency call [local hotline]

All information will be kept confidential. Information submitted will be carefully assessed and, if warranted, investigated by trained investigators. All information gathered and all investigative activity will be subject to strict policies designed to protect the privacy and civil liberties of American citizens while protecting our Nation from terrorism.

A SIMPLE Observation. A SINGLE report can lead to actions that may STOP a terrorist attack iWATCH, iREPORT, i KEEP US SAFE (iWATCH ARMY) is a community program to help your neighborhood stay safe from terrorist activities.

What is iWATCH ARMY?

You and your fellow Army community members can report behaviors and activities that make you feel uncomfortable and do not look right (suspicious behaviors).

iWATCH ARMY is a program and partnership between your community and your local law enforcement.

iWATCH ARMY asks you to report behavior and activities that are unusual or seem out of the ordinary.

Why Report These Behaviors and Activities?

It is your awareness reported to local law enforcement that can help predict and prevent attacks before they happen.

Since 9-11, we can and must work together to prevent future attacks.

It is always better to report suspicious behaviors than to refrain from doing so.

The iWATCH ARMY program is about behaviors and activities, not individuals.

What Activities Do I Report?

Here are examples of behaviors and activities to report:

- ★ People drawing or measuring important buildings.
- ★ Strangers asking questions about security forces or security procedures.
- ★ A briefcase, suitcase, backpack or package left behind.
- ★ Cars or trucks left in No Parking zones in front of important buildings.
- ★ Intruders found in secure areas.
- ★ A person wearing clothes that are too big and bulky and/or too hot for the weather.
- ★ Chemical smells or fumes that worry you.
- ★ Questions about sensitive information such as building blueprints, security plans or VIP travel schedules without a right or need to know.
- ★ Purchasing supplies or equipment that can be used to make bombs or weapons or purchasing uniforms without having the proper credentials.

Example Situations

"There's a chemical smell coming from my neighbor's apartment."

*"I saw someone taking measurements. I don't want to get them in trouble. What should I do?"
(This activity may be repeated at other locations and you may be reporting one piece of the puzzle.)*

*"Maybe someone just forgot their briefcase on the bus."
(Do not check it yourself. It may be a test.)*

*"I saw someone watching our offices, and the next day my co-worker was asked a lot of questions about our building by someone else."
(Do not check it yourself. It may be a test.)*

Unsure what to do?
Let the experts decide!
