Find your way through Vermont!

The flag of the “Green Mountain Boys,” representing the Vermont National Guard, features a light blue canton adorned with 13 stars symbolizing the original thirteen colonies of the United States. This flag serves as the regimental flag for the Vermont National Guard and has its roots in the Green Mountain Boys, a group of soldiers from Vermont led by Ethan Allen, who fought for independence during the Revolutionary War. A relic of this flag from that era can be found at the Bennington Museum in Vermont. It was originally carried by John Stark, who participated in the Battle of Bennington and is believed to have flown the flag during the conflict. This flag is among the few regimental flags that have survived from the War.
