Spotlight Story

Students in Ms. Chambers' Environmental Science class recently traded their textbooks for a hands-on learning experience at the magnificent Atlanta Botanical Garden.

The field trip was an enriching opportunity for students to study the core standards of the class in a more immersive and in-depth way. Instead of just reading about ecosystems, plant diversity, and conservation, the students got to see these concepts in action.

Throughout the garden's diverse collections, students explored several key environmental science themes:

- Ecosystems and Interdependence: The tropical, desert, and local plant houses provided perfect real-world examples of different biomes and how various species rely on one another to thrive.
- Plant Biology and Adaptation: Students got an up-close look at how different plants have adapted to their unique environments—from the water-storing succulents in the desert house to the humidity-loving orchids.
- Conservation in Action: The trip highlighted the critical role of botanical gardens in plant conservation, especially for endangered and rare species. This tied directly into our recent unit on human impact on the environment.

The students were engaged and curious, making observations, taking notes, and connecting what they saw with the lessons we've covered in class.

Clubs and Sports

The learning at Favor Transition Academy goes far beyond the classroom!

We are proud to offer a variety of clubs and sports that give our students the chance to build skills, develop teamwork, and have fun. Participation in extracurricular activities is a fantastic way for students to explore new interests and connect with peers.

Students can participate in:

- Track and Field
- Fitness Club
- Archery
- Student Government Association (SGA)

Encourage your student to get involved! For more information on meeting times or how to sign up, please contact the main office.

It's always a pleasure to grow our school family, and this month we have two wonderful new members to welcome!

Please join me in extending a warm welcome to Ms. Nikki, who has joined our staff as the new Administrative Assistant and Office Manager. Ms. Nikki is already a tremendous asset in keeping our front office running smoothly.

In addition, we are excited to welcome a new student, A. R., to our classrooms.

We are so glad to have both Ms. Nikki and A. R. join our community!
