

Food is the most primitive form of comfort. My mother loved to cook and her enthusiasm and love for creating recipes and cooking for our family and friends certainly rubbed off on me. Her style was simple yet complex and her meals were filled with her love and joy that nourished and created a welcoming setting for conversation and laughter that filled our home every day. It was delicious and always comforting. These recipes and cooking styles mirror my mother's style of cooking, which is so familiar. These creations provide me comfort in the preparation, with hopes of nourishing you with comfort as well. This month, we are traveling home. The theme is simply love and comfort.

"In the childhood memories of every good cook, there's a large kitchen, a warm stove, a simmering pot, and a mom." – Barbara Costikyan
