September 2024 Newsletter

President's Report

Dear TARWF Members,

It is GO TIME to prepare for the election. Please plan to join us on September 27th for our Candidate Forum. Ballots will be going out in early October, and we need everyone to do their research now and be prepared to vote. We urge you to get your ballot turned in as soon as possible so follow-up efforts can be focused on those who have not yet voted.

Thank you to our Membership Outreach Committee for the work they have done all summer. They have contacted more than 425 Hard R Republicans sharing information about our club. We look forward to seeing those who have expressed interest in checking out our Club at our Meet & Greet on September 17th and/or at our General Meeting/Candidate Forum on September 27th. We continue to deliver on our goals of Educating and Engaging our members and helping to Elect Republicans!

Our Meet & Greet at Blondies Style in Old Town Tustin is on Tuesday, September 17th starting at 4:30pm. There will be appetizers, beverages, shopping and prizes including a chance to win a Blondies Style gift card! Most importantly, you will have an opportunity to meet and talk with our TUSD Board of Trustee candidates and a Tustin City Council candidate.

Our summer ASK fundraising project has been very successful. Thank you to everyone who donated to our Club's treasury. We judiciously spend your donations on TARWF operations, outreach and supporting the Young America Foundation who is educating and training our future conservative leaders of tomorrow. Just last week four of your TARWF leaders attended the CFRW Fall Board of Directors Meeting and Conference in Bakersfield, California. We were inspired by the GET OUT THE VOTE program, as well as the speakers and candidates that presented to the group. Your CFRW leadership team is hard at work supporting our local clubs.

The Tustin Tiller Days event takes place October 4, 5 & 6. We look forward to having local candidates and our members working at the TARWF booth all three days. TARWF Community Outreach Chair Becky Grimes is in charge, contact her at ppprebecca@sbcglobal.net to find out more and sign up to volunteer.

I look forward to seeing you all many times this month. Let's GET OUT THE VOTE and ELECT REPUBLICANS from the top to the bottom of the ballot!

Program Report

I believe that all of you reading this would know that our country was established by a national charter, that is the Constitution of the United States. But do you realize that in the negotiations of that Constitution, the founders rejected the idea of a democracy as a form of government to govern our new country? In our country the people do rule, in Greek, demos (the people) and kratos (rule) is where the word democracy is rooted. So why would the founders reject it and why would our current Vice President be repeating that certain things or people are a “threat to our democracy”?

Our founding fathers were well read in the history of world governments, including classical Greek and Roman empires which were both Republics. Our founders did not believe in pure or unrestricted Democracy. They actually feared that a pure democracy could much too easily devolve into “mob” rule, trampling the rights of the minority and covert that minorities civil liberties. So, while our government has many democratic features it also has many non-democratic features that protect liberty. Our founders favored representative government, rejecting that “the majority wins” would be the just outcome or best for the Country.

The Constitution provides that individual states are in competition with each other. If the majority were to rule, the larger states with larger urban populations would be able to overwhelm the smaller, less populous states negating their needs and liberties. This is the best and most brilliant explanation for the Electoral College. We could get further into the Constitution, which I believe is a fascinating document to study, but then this article would be way too long. But what I really want you to be aware of is that the deletion of civics in our schools in the last 30-40 years is no accident. The Democratic party is banking on the people's ignorance of the Constitution. The idea that our rights, liberties and freedoms are ordained by our Creator rather than by a government is a novel one. We are a Constitutional Republic, and to paraphrase Ben Franklin, if we can keep it!

The Constitution also provided for limited Federal powers (amendment X of the Bill of Rights), and anything not enumerated as a federal power would fall to the individual States and further to local municipalities (the people) within those States. Which brings me to the program for this month. We are bringing you a Candidates Forum of local, grassroots candidates including:

Kathy Copeland, running for Tustin School Board

Joe Portera, running for Tustin School Board

John Nielson, running for Tustin City Council

Ryan Gallagher, incumbent running for Tustin City Council

Tanner Douthit, running for Tustin City Council

Lana Clay, running for Tustin City Council

It is easy to get all wound up in a presidential election year in that one race, but it is these local elections that have a huge impact on your day-to-day life. We really need to pay attention to these local elections as well as our national one and I would love for you all to get to know these worthy candidates.

I look forward to seeing you all on September 27th for our Candidates Forum luncheon!

Fundraising Report

September – Fundraising News and Announcements

I am happy to say that we ushered out the summer with a highly successful ASK donation campaign. Thank you for your continued generosity and support of this club. Checks continue to appear in the club mailbox so we don't have a final total yet.

School is back in session; traffic is back up and Christmas decorations have long been in the stores. The months are marching along and will have 2024 gone before we know it. But we still have a lot of work to do.

Our meetings will start back up in September. Our fundraising vendor fair SCOOP THE SEASON traditionally takes place in October. The month of October will once again find us back at Barbara George's home for a Pampered Chef cooking class. If you've never attended one, do yourself a favor. The food Barbara prepares using the Pampered Chef product and recipes are beyond belief. Her profits are generously donated to TARWF.

We are dark in November so we can spend time with family and friends. We are working on a surprise program for December so stay tuned and keep inviting new members.

I have always thought that fundraising and membership should go hand in hand. Well, this summer found Sheryl Franke, our President hand addressing over four hundred letters to potential members, all hard Rs and women over fifty. Then we followed up with a phone call inviting the addressees to happy hour and our monthly luncheons. People don't know we exist so we are trying to target and tell as many of them as we can reach. So far so good.

And finally, if you have any interest in helping with or chairing the Fundraising spot next year, please reach out! We have a lot of help but need a chair to head up the fun! If you have questions about any of this, feel free to reach out to me. I have many answers! One of them could be yours.

Thank you for all you are already doing, just...

KEEP IT UP!

Membership Report

To all TARWF Members!

We're excited to welcome everyone back to the TARWF meeting in September! As the kids head back to school and we catch our breath before the next round of activities, we must stay focused on our mission to help our country recover from the challenges of the past few years under Biden's leadership.

While women have an essential role in leadership, we need the best among us—women of integrity who can address today's issues with clarity and strength, not those who resort to divisive rhetoric. It's concerning that the media portrays Kamala Harris as a capable world leader despite her lack of experience in navigating critical global situations.

Our goal now is to rally and strengthen our party, and by extension, our nation. It's disheartening to see how uninformed many voters are, often guided by media narratives and community leaders rather than their own informed choices. Politics has become a marketing battle, but we must strive to bring truth and integrity back into the conversation.

To achieve this, we encourage active membership in TARWF and collaboration toward our shared goals. Let's promote free thinking and honesty and take a moment from our busy lives to focus on what truly matters. By identifying our priorities and connecting with others who share our mindset, we can make a meaningful impact together.

Membership efforts are poised to provide you with the tools that you will need to engage with other like-minded women, so while we are busy planning our documentation updates to support you, please let us know of any changes that will impact our roster.

We welcome new members Josette Pierre, Selma Ponsell and Rachel Valdez.

Thank you! Happy Voting!

Gayle Carter, Co-Membership Chair
Linette Johnston, Co-Membership Chair
Gretchen Whisler, Membership Secretary

City of Tustin History

Donna Peery, Office Manager of the Tustin Historical Society contributes articles for our newsletter regarding Tustin history and Tustin armed forces service personnel.

One of the biggest Shakespearean actresses of the late 1800's and early 1900's once called Tustin, California her home. Madame Modjeska (her professional stage name) was born in Poland in 1840 to a large family of actors and musicians. As a young girl, her brother took her to an acting coach and was told she had no talent and should stay home but she was determined to become an actress. She made her stage debut at age 20, was an immediate success and offered an engagement at the Warsaw Imperial Theater.

In 1868, she married Count Karol Bozenta Chlapolska, her stage manager. Poland was already under Russian domination, and they controlled and censored the theater. They decided for political and personal health issues to come to America in 1876, along with a group of their artistic friends. The group first settled in Anaheim, where they hoped to establish a Polish Colony as Anaheim also had a German Colony and they spoke German. The group had heard of the rich soil in Anaheim and since most spoke little English, and had left the stage, they were going to try their hand at farming.

This proved more difficult than they had imagined, since they lacked any knowledge of farming. They had cows but did not know how to milk them or make cheese! A drought soon followed ending any hopes they had of becoming farmers. After three months, The Bozenta's moved to San Francisco, Modjeska learned English and returned to the stage. Despite her accent, Modjeska became a huge star playing Shakespearean heroines, playing at least twelve different parts. They went back and forth across the country by train, steamship and horse drawn carriages playing in New York, San Francisco, and small towns in between. She made repeated trips back to her native Poland to play in theaters there. She was admired for her subtle, natural style, artistic ideals, and influence on American theater. Even as her fame grew, she missed Orange County, her friends, and the Santa Ana Mountains she loved.

In the early 1880's, Madame Modjeska and Count Bozenta were spending their vacations in the Santa Ana Mountains as the guests of Judge J.E. Pleasants and convinced him to sell 1300 acres to her. Once she moved in, people began calling that part of Silverado Canyon Modjeska Canyon and part of Saddleback Mountain Modjeska Peak. She called home Forest of Arden from Shakespeare's play "As You Like It."

She lived at Arden until 1906 and then moved to Tustin. She considered James and Coralinn Rice among her best friends and often did performances with them. She lived in Tustin for a brief time, then purchased the home of Samuel Tustin, the son of Columbus Tustin, on Bay Island in Newport Beach.

Madame Modjeska passed away in 1909 and is buried in Poland. Her son, Ralph Modjeski (male names in Polish end in the letter I and females in A) was a civil engineer that has been called "America's greatest bridge builder", pioneering the use of suspension bridges, including the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

On Friday evening September 27th, the Tustin Area Historical Society will be presenting a program on Madame Modjeska's life in Tustin. For more information visit www.tustinhistory.com or call the museum at 714-731-5701.

Positioning Kamala Harris, the California Candidate

By Robin M. Itzler

As California native Kamala Harris continues her word salad presidential campaign, Americans in the other 49 states might wonder how someone who can't speak without a teleprompter rose to this political level. The key word is "California," a state so insanely blue that its super-Democrat majority legislature wants to give reparations to people who were never slaves paid by people who were never slave owners. California joined the union in 1850 as a free state!

Currently, Governor Gavin "Hair Gel" Newsom has AB1840 sitting on his desk, a law that would help illegal aliens buy homes. "If Governor Newsom signs AB 1840, someone who has broken the law to illegally enter our country will be eligible to enter the lottery for a 20% downpayment loan on a home—a loan that legal California residents will pay for," explains East Valley Republican Women Patriots (EVRWP) President Joy Miedecke, "This privilege is on top of free healthcare for illegal aliens that the California Democrats passed last year." Serving the greater Palm Springs, California region, EVRWP is one of the largest independent Republican clubs in the United States, with more than 2,300 members.

This insanity explains how Kamala Harris went from Willie Brown's bedroom to the political boardroom. Addressing his extramarital affair with Harris, the former and once very powerful Brown wrote in a column:

Yes, I may have influenced her career by appointing her to two state commissions when I was [California] Assembly speaker. And I certainly helped with her first race for district attorney in San Francisco.

The result is that Harris never had to work hard for her political success because it was either given to her, compliments of her paramour Willie Brown, or she ran in elections where the Democrat would win. In deep blue California, the Democrat candidate usually wins. For Harris:

- 2003 – elected and re-elected San Francisco district attorney.
- 2010 – elected and re-elected California attorney general.
- 2017 – elected junior senator.

Harris probably expected the same victory in the 2020 Democrat presidential primary. But when she had to articulate her position on issues, she was as successful as the Titanic reaching New York on its maiden voyage. Harris dropped out before Iowa without receiving even one primary vote.

As Kamala moved into the "has been" column after leaving the primary, Biden swooped her up as his vice-presidential nominee because the half-Jamaican, half-Indian checked two very important Democrat boxes: she could proudly wear a pink vagina hat and was a woman of color. (For the record, white is a color, too.)

And that's where we are today. Harris is the incumbent from the disastrous Biden-Harris administration.

Harris must now speak coherently about her failures as Border Czar, having allowed 10+ million illegals to enter the United States; rampant crime, including the new "migrant crime" category; record-breaking inflation that is destroying the middle-class; multiple global conflicts; lawfare against political opponents; and a pro-LGBT+ alphabet agenda that allows men to compete in female sports, just to name a few Harris-Biden disasters.

Cackling aside, astute political observers know her revised "moderate" positions have a November 5, 2024, expiration date.

Moreover, Kamala held her first interview on August 29, more than 40 days after the palace coup that pushed Joe Biden out of the campaign. Besides the usual word salads where she insisted that her values hadn't changed, optics-wise, it looked like a parents-teacher night at a grade school.

In the edited and packaged interview, "student" Harris sat on one of the small "first-grade chairs" behind the "student desk" while her "father" Tim Walz met with "teacher" CNN's Dana Bash. CNN only showed 18 of the 41 minutes of the highly anticipated taped interview, which leads many to believe most of it was a dumpster fire.

While conservatives mocked the CNN interview, Sally Zelikovsky, founder of 75M & Rising and a regular American Thinker contributor, stressed considering how the interview was viewed outside the MAGA bubble. Writing in "The Long-Awaited Interview with Kamala" she states:

"Understand: The Party of Asses doesn't want Trump to campaign on anything but silly, stupid, insipid, nonsensical, word salad, commie Kamala. But, as we saw in the interview, THAT Kamala will not be making much of an appearance between now and Election Day 2024. We should not be duped into or distracted by that temptation, especially when we have the facts of the last four years on our side. "

Partnering with the leftist mainstream media (MSM), Kamala Harris and Tim Walz (governor of Minnesota-Somalia) are supposedly polling very close to Donald Trump and J.D. Vance. Really? Consider the facts and learn some Yiddish along the way:

- Democrats are hanging black curtains in venues at Harris rallies to hide empty seats because Kamala Harris is a shmendrik (jerk).
- Democrats are paying people to attend Harris rallies, or they bus them in. We wonder what other tchotchkes (small gifts) they offer attendees.
- Democrats are not allowing Harris to talk much outside of scripted speeches because she has bupkis (nothing) to say.
- The only way Harris could get viewership for her convention speech was by spreading rumors that there would be a special guest. Beyonce? Taylor Swift? There was no special guest. They did this because few people wanted to listen to Harris' Marxist spiel (long speech).
- Harris is afraid to debate Trump. She tried to change the debate rules after they were agreed to, which makes her a putz (someone who acts like a jerk).

- Lacking original thought, Harris continually steals Trump's policy ideas, such as not taxing tips or building the border wall. This makes Kamala Harris a goniff (swindler, cheat, or just plain dishonest).
- The Harris campaign has an ad where she extolls the benefits of Trump's border wall. Kamala Harris is a tuchas-hole (a**hole).
- Harris is now for everything she was once against and against everything she was once for—with a complying MSM. Harris, Walz, and their supporters are meshugana (crazy).

Harris and Walz are fraudulently campaigning as moderates in their quest to make America into the United States of California. When she debates Donald Trump on September 10, that might be the first time Harris is forced to defend her past views and ever-changing current positions. Positions that started in Willie Brown's bedroom.
