MEET THE SONGWRITER

DAN ALLEY

Miamisburg, Ohio native Dan Alley grew up in a musical family. He started playing guitar at age nine and moved to Nashville at 21 to pursue his passion for country music. Inspired Hank Williams Jr. and Merle Haggard, Alley's music blends traditional country with modern flair. In Nashville, he's collaborated with icons like Josh Thompson and Brent Cobb. As a songwriter, Alley has achieved success with hits like Lainey Wilson's "Straight Up Sideways," and Josh Gallagher's "Bright Side." Currently a songwriter at River House Artists and a member of the trio Old Hickory alongside Andy Austin and Timothy Baker, Alley continues to craft heartfelt tunes, promising more memorable music in the years ahead.

CHARLIE ARGO

Selma, Alabama's Charlie Argo blends southern blues and country influences into a distinctive sound. Inspired by legends like Otis Redding and Gregg Allman, Charlie quickly found success with his EP "In the Name of Love," which soared to the top of the iTunes Blues chart. His single "Tennessee Will" claimed the #1 spot on the Blues Singles chart. With a new project, "Mindful Man," on the horizon, Charlie continues to captivate audiences across the U.S. The Nashville-based singer-songwriter has a plethora of styles that dance on the outskirts of country music into a sound that we like to call, Southern Soul.

ANDY AUSTIN

Kannapolis, North Carolina's Andy Austin has been writing and performing in Nashville since 2018. He is a country singer-songwriter and member of the trio Old Hickory with Dan Alley and Timothy Baker. The trio, signed to a development deal with River House Artists, have refined their three-part harmonies and neo-traditional storytelling, giving their audiences an overall authentic country music experience. Whether writing with the trio or for another artist, Andy's ability to craft compelling lyrics and captivating stories, elevates any room he is in.

TIMOTHY BAKER

A native of Hazard, Kentucky, Timothy Baker grew up playing bluegrass and gospel music with his family. Baker, who fell in love with country music at an early age, made the move to Nashville in July 2018 and quickly found his way into a number of songwriting circles that helped him hone his craft. In January of 2023, Timothy joined forces with longtime friends Dan Alley and Andy Austin to form the trio Old Hickory. That same year, he also celebrated his first major label cut with Jake Worthington's "State You Left Me In."

SAM BANKS

Heavily influenced by the songwriting of Dean Dillon and Tony Lane, the artistry of Merle Haggard, and Brent Mason's chicken pickin' guitar licks, Sam Bank's has shared the stage with Craig Morgan, Trace Adkins, John Rich, Gary Levox and many others. He had his first major label cut with Craig Morgan in 2020 with "Going Out Like This," and his most recent cuts include "Ask Him" by Morgan, along with cuts on William Michael Morgan's Onto Something EP and an upcoming cut with Texas artist Josh Ward. Sam, a native of Kansas City, penned a publishing deal with Porchlight Music in 2024. His debut single "Who's Teachin Who" released in June 2024.

NATE BARNES

They say storytellers are at their best when they write about what they know. Quartz Hill Records newcomer Nate Barnes is no exception. The young, blue-collar power plant worker writes and sings about the work and the everyday life he lived in South Haven, Michigan. When he was 21, a close friend introduced Barnes to the music of Keith Whitley, George Strait, Alabama and Brooks & Dunn. Influenced by those artists, Barnes sings about God, family, hard work, heartache, love, the simple life and its joys.

Barnes debut album will be released in 2025. The first single, "Love in the Country," is available now across streaming platforms.

TERRI JO BOX

Nacogdoches, Texas native Terri Jo Box has spent the last 25 years as a forerunner in the Nashville music scene. She wrote for MERF Music Group 2010-2016, and became the flagship writer at Jonas Group Publishing in 2019. Box has earned placement on four GRAMMY-nominated albums including Lainey Wilson's ACM, CMA and GRAMMY Award-winning "Bell Bottom Country," Miranda Lambert's 2018 ACM Album of the Year, "Weight of These Wings," Sister Sadie's "Sister Sadie II" and Ashley McBryde's "Girl Going Nowhere." She has also written songs recorded by Eric Church, Joe Nichols, Trisha Yearwood, Patty Loveless and more.

RONNIE BOWMAN

Ronnie Bowman has achieved remarkable heights in his musical career as an award-winning Bluegrass songwriter and vocalist, as well as an award-winning songwriter in Country music. Both Brooks & Dunn and Kenny Chesney have brought Ronnie Bowman originals to #1, and Lee Ann Womack also included a song by Bowman on her multiplatinum selling album "I Hope You Dance." Bowman penned three songs on Chris Stapleton's album "Traveller." The single "Nobody To Blame" won Bowman the ACM Song of the Year Award.

MARTY BROWN

Marty Brown is a seasoned country music entertainer who has recorded four albums for MCA Records, including Wild Kentucky Skies, Wildest Dreams, Cryin Lovin Leavin and Here's To The Honky Tonks. Brown has toured with legends George Jones, Hank Williams Jr, Garth Brooks, and Brooks & Dunn. He penned the country classics "I'm from the Country and I Like it that Way" for Tracy Byrd, "It Ain't Me If It Ain't You" for Brooks and Dunn, and "When I Stop Loving You" for Trace Adkins. The King of Country Music, George Strait, recently recorded a love song Brown wrote for his wife of 20 years, Shellie, called "To The Moon." Brown, a BMI songwriter, signed with Universal Publishing in 2023. A member of the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame, Brown received 25+ million online views on America's Got Talent Season 8 performing Bob Dylan's "Make You Feel My Love."

JENNA LAMASTER

Country music makes people feel understood. That's what made Northern California native, Jenna LaMaster, fall in love with it. The barrel-racing, western songbird moved from CA to TX where she competed on the professional rodeo circuit before moving to Nashville. In 2020, Jenna signed her first publishing deal with Sheltered Music. While working on her own project, Jenna penned her first two major label cuts on Big Loud Record's recording artist Ashland Craft with songs, "Your Momma Still Does," and "Leavin' You Again." She has since penned Craft's "Danced With The Devil," along with Kasey Tyndall's "Place For Me," and Faren Rachel's "Bad Whiskey." Jenna's first single, "Drunk Thoughts" is out now.

CASEY LEVASSEUR

Casey LeVasseur is no stranger to the music industry. She spent much of her childhood in local dives, studios and publishing houses learning the business from some of the very best producers, managers and writers. Her list of teachers and mentors includes her father, Hall of Fame songwriter, Jeffrey Steele. LeVasseur is head of A&R/Artist Management at 3 Ring Circus Music & Records in Nashville and has played an active role in the development of hit writers and song placements from Miley Cyrus to Keith Urban, Eric Church and the like. LeVasseur and Steele also jointly operate the Jeffrey Steele Academy, a teaching community for aspiring writers. When she isn't developing artists and writers, LeVasseur is creating and performing. LeVasseur's storyteller writing and sound can be heard as part of the duo Silence x Noise with fellow dreamer Kurtis John.

TRICK SAVAGE

Trick Savage is a lifetime music professional and Grammy nominated songwriter hailing from Oklahoma - a place he calls the "ground zero of country music greatness." He's an in demand sideman and session guitarist. As an ad music guy, Trick has written and produced music for clients from ESPN, TBN and WGN to Levis, Sonic Drive In and even Presidential candidates. As a songwriter, he's had cuts with Eric Church, Ashley McBryde, Dan Smalley, Trisha Yearwood and more. "Cool Little Bars" is on Ashley McBryde's current album, The Devil I Know, written with Ashley McBryde and Lainey Wilson.

SCOUT SPEER

Scout Speer's passion for music was kindled in a home on the Tennessee-Alabama line, where her granddaddy's guitar playing introduced her to the harmonies that bind a family. Raised amid the sounds of country greats and rustic farming life, outdoor adventures became as much a part of her as her music. At eight years old, motivated by a promise from her granddaddy to pass down the family guitar, Scout learned to play, earning herself the cherished instrument. With her distinctly warm vocal tone and genuine, heartfelt lyrics, Scout will be moving from the great outdoors to the Grand Ole Opry in no time.
