It was in response to these and other similar messages that the Adventist Youth Society came to be formed. steven_universe_the_movie_sub_espanol_google_drive.pdf And so the years have passed and the boys and girls of all lands have met and prayed and gone out from their meetings to work. A great work has been accomplished, and the one-time small band has grown to number many thousands and to stretch round the world.

But how did there come to be Pathfinder classes? As our boys and girls met and worked and became interested in the AY/AJY activities, leaders felt the need of providing additional ways of helping them in their preparation for efficient service and the development of strong Christian character, that they might better know how to pioneer for God when He needs them. During the earnest study given to the question many pointed and helpful suggestions were found in the writings of the Spirit of Prophecy, and a few of these are quoted here for your inspiration and encouragement: "The children are to be trained to become missionaries; they must be helped to understand distinctly what they must do to be saved." (Counsels to Parents, Teachers, and Students, page 168). And the best preparation "is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come." (Education, page 13). "Children are to be instructed in the special truths for this time, and in practical missionary work. They are to enlist in the army of workers to help the sick and the suffering. Children can take part in the medical missionary work and by their joys and tittles can help to carry it forward. Their investments may be small, but every little helps, and by their efforts many souls will be won to the truth. By them God's message will be made known and His saving health to all nations." (Counsels to Parents, Teachers, and Students, page 176-177). "While the Bible should hold the first place in the education of children and youth, the book of nature is next in importance... In itself the beauty of nature leads the soul away from worldly attractions, and toward purity, peace, and God. For this reason the cultivation of the soil is good work for children and youth. It brings them into direct contact with nature and nature's God." (Counsels to Parents, Teachers, and Students, page 185-186).

As a result of this exercise many benefits to the youth will be found in useful employment. The little child finds both diversion and development in play; and his sports should be such as to promote not only physical, but mental and spiritual growth. As he gains strength and intelligence, the best recreation will be found in some line of effort that is useful. That which fits the hand to handicrafts and teaches the young to be their share of life's burdens, is most effective in promoting the growth of mind and character. "It is essential for every youth to have a thorough acquaintance with everyday duties. If need be, a young woman can dispense with a knowledge of French and algebra, or even of the piano; but it is indispensable that she learn to make good bread, to fashion neatly-fitting garments, and to perform efficiently the many duties that pertain to homemaking." Since both men and women have a part in home-making, boys as well as girls should gain a knowledge of household duties. To make a bed and put a room in order, to wash dishes, to prepare meals, to wash and repair his own clothing, is a training that no boy or girl can afford. And if girls in their work could learn to harness and drive a horse, and to use the saw and the hammer, as well as the scie and the hoe, they would be better fitted to meet the emergencies of life." (Education 215-216).

The Pathfinder Club is a worldwide program organized and directed by the Youth Department of the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, headquartered in Silver Spring, Maryland. Within this 1 1/2, 2, or 3 hour period the Pathfinders perform drill and marching, crafts and/or hobbies and games, as well as taking part in devotional activities and class work. There are six classes, with given names, which begin at 10 years of age and conclude at 15 years. Each class is represented by a chosen color: Friend - 10 years - Blue; Companion - 11 years - Red; Explorer - 12 years - Green; Ranger - 13 years - Silver; Voyager - 14 years - Burgundy; Guide - 15 years - Gold. Each individual member becomes a very vital representative of the organization, and wearing the uniform will help to provide a consciousness of belonging to a club that rightfully represents the Adventist youth of today. If the uniform is worn as ordinary clothing it will have failed in its purpose. The uniform should always be neat and clean. Not more than one option may be worn and must be standard within the organization level selecting in.The use of a uniform in Pathfindering provides many positive results. It meets certain psychological needs of the Pathfinder age bracket; it encourages what could be called upgraded behavior; and it provides a sense of cohesiveness.In most regions the official uniform adopted in many ways resembles local military uniforms as local laws will or will not allow. While this is acceptable to a degree, those who have the decision making authority must be very careful to not create nor allow militarism to creep into Pathfindering. Militarism is defined as the use of military discipline and the wholesale adoption of military-style uniforms that would create confusion in the minds of those who do not know what Pathfindering represents. Around the world there are governments that are very sensitive to the existence of paramilitary organizations.
