- Gappers a lot of times are formed when news comes out overnight
  - Typically above avg vol. at open.
  - Not all gappers will be gainers
- Keeps searching for new news throughout the day
- Warrior Trader organizes his day as the following
  - Gappers
  - Big 1.0 movers
  - News / PR
- Finishing an entry
  - Chart patterns are key
  - 1st 1-2 hours of the day. he wants to get in on the 1st pullback on the stock
    - He says a bull flag formation in this strategy works
  - Sort your scanner by highest vol.
  - The VWAP is a trading indicator which avg the closing prices during the given time period, but also puts emphasize on periods w/ greater volume. VWAP is a lagging indicator b/c it is based on previous data.
    - VWAP = Volume Weighted Average Price
  - Short or call volume is a good indicator sometimes.
  - Example

- This mitigates losses and prevents early entries.
- Ideally when that entry you'd like to see an increase in vol. but you don't always get that.
- More often than not, the bull run flag is going to break in the direction of the trend.

- IF high vol.

- When a stock/crypto is testing the highs on the day, look for new highs on heavy buying volume.

- Buy on new high of day
