Marquette University Innovation Kitchen was constructed in the Lunda Room of the Alumni Memorial Union (AMU) and serves as an interactive space for students to eat and attend cooking lessons.

The space features a renovated space layout and new kitchen equipment layout to allow for interactive classes in the refurbished space.

This also includes a technology driven layout to allow larger groups to experience each class.

Thanks to the vision of Rick Arcuri, executive director of Marquette's Student Affairs Operations, and Sodexo's Marquette dining team, learning culinary techniques is now a part of life on campus.
