

Your Numerological Profile

The Five Core Numbers

- 1. Destiny – The purpose and direction of your life. This number represents your calling and mission in this life.

Your Destiny Number is 11/2. With this Destiny number, your special mission in life is to inspire and uplift. As an old soul, your purpose is to live up to and accept your destiny and to recognize that your creativity and intuitive skills are to be used for the good of humanity. Your job is to reform, elevate, and transform others' lives. The field of opportunity best suited for you is one where you learn to express your teaching ability. Even if you are impatient, critical, or high-strung, you're destined for inspired leadership.

- 2. Life Path – Your own special path that you walk in this lifetime. This number shows the natural gifts and talents that will allow you to fulfill your destiny.

Your Life Path Number is 9. With this Life Path number, your journey will lead you to understand the interconnectedness of all things. It's a path of universal love that learns compassion and tolerance for all, and the importance of caring for each other. You're a born healer, and your healing may take the form of writing, composing, painting, or sculpting. With this number you will also be learning how to let go, to surrender the self for the greater good. Some of the careers best suited for someone with this number include international business, the arts, education, and health. But truly any line of work that is designed to help, heal, or humanize belong to this humanitarian number.

- 3. Soul – This is your hearts desire and your inner motivation, and reveals what you long for in your heart of hearts.

Your Soul Number is 8. With this Soul number, you will want to be the boss, or to have power of some kind in this world. It's hard for people with this number to understand the emotions of others and many times they prefer to stick to business than messy emotional affairs. Those with this number want to feel important not just at home but in what they perceive to be the real world. In matters of the heart, a person with this number will look for a strong, capable, and organized mate who's equal to his or her ambition. There is a warm loving nature to those with this number if you let your guard down and don't focus on the business aspects of life, but for the most part, you may find yourself too busy for romance.

- 4. Personality – This number shows how others see you. It is the outer look you wear and how others define you.

Your Personality Number is 3. Some of the traits under this personality that you may show in this lifetime are:

Your Numerological Profile

- Looks like fun
- Magnetic personality
- Friendly and animated
- Life of the party
- Great talker and usually has something interesting to say
- Entertaining and charming
- Extroverted and sociable
- Attractive physical appearance
- Optimistic outlook
- Contagiously enthusiastic
- Witty, and excellent with words
- Has a great sense of humor
- Looks great in most colors and styles

5. Maturity – This number shows the direction for the second half of your life. It represents the “true you” as you begin to live in harmony with your inner and outer selves.

Your Maturity Number is 11/2. With this Maturity number, at an early age you'll have an unusual amount of self-understanding as well as the ability to see through emotional experiences to the truth within. With your higher knowledge, you will demonstrate wisdom beyond your years. This number represents a high intensity energy, which can lead to the realms of psychic phenomenon. With this number, you find yourself getting involved in other peoples' problems and nontraditional spiritual systems. You're extremely sensitive to others' feelings, environmental conditions, various products, and even certain foods. This means your lifestyle must be balanced, because you're a much higher vibration pulsating at a more rapid frequency than most. To learn the depth and scope of your outstanding gift of intuition, you'll need to protect your immune system and rest often. In addition, you'll need companionship with built-in independence and you may attain fame or move into the spotlight somehow. You most likely are attractive, charismatic, and refined, with exceptionally good manners. As you grow into your elder years, you can expect to pursue spiritual interests such as intuition development, clairvoyance, or healing touch. You'll have select relationships with those who share your psychic and intuitive wisdom, and you may find yourself in the role of mediator, arbitrator, or peacemaker. But most of all, you will be called to inspire and uplift humanity whether you are close to home or in the broad reaches of public service.

The Life Lessons Numbers (Karmic Lessons)

Andrew Arthur Dawson – 06/11/1972

Your Numerological Profile

Life Lessons Numbers – These are the numbers that are not present in your name. They tell of the lessons you're meant to learn to advance your personal and spiritual growth.

Your Life Lessons Numbers for this lifetime is only the number 7.

Having the lesson of 7, you must learn how to find wisdom and truth within yourself. In this pursuit there will be much time spent alone but part of having this lesson is to deal with aloneness, and to not let the desire for solitude turn into loneliness and isolation.

The Pinnacles

Pinnacles – These are the four phases of your life that point the way to your highest achievements.

Your 1st pinnacle – Age 0 to 27 – The 8 Pinnacle – During this time of your life, you will learn to deal with the business world and authority of any kind, and to find your own sense of personal power. You will learn about money, power, and authority. Your judgment during this time will be tested repeatedly and the activities of this period of life will bring you the opportunity to manage property and business and to advance your career. Home life may be of less importance during this time because your career and success will be your top priority. You will need to demonstrate strength and courage and not live in weakness during this time. With careful management of financial affairs, coupled with hard work, you will find reward come during this time both monetarily and in satisfaction of a job well done.

Your 2nd pinnacle – Age 27 to 36 – The 3 Pinnacle – During this time of your life, the door for personal expression will open for you. This period of your life will deal with many emotions, the imagination, and the creative spirit. Learn during this time to say what's in your heart. This is truly a highly creative period where you're meant to encourage and inspire others. You'll also learn during this time that your energy can easily be scattered, so discipline will be important.

Your 3rd pinnacle – Age 36 to 45 – The 11/2 Pinnacle – During this time of your life there will be intense revelations, enormous personal and spiritual growth, and a compelling sense of being different, and you'll develop an uncanny ability to see into the soul of things. You'll have a message to deliver to people to inspire, uplift, and share your revelations to those in your circles.

Your 4th pinnacle – Age 45 to ? – The 7 Pinnacle – During this time of your life, you're in a time of study, education, scientific interests, and specialization. There's a strong quality of the individualist, separatist, and the loner present during this time of your life. It's a time to focus on the inner landscape. This pinnacle brings much wisdom, and people will come to you for your wisdom because you will develop a talent for explaining the unexplainable. As a last pinnacle, this will bring you spiritual development and is a quiet, reserved time for inner analysis and gaining knowledge, which you will eventually teach to others.

The Challenges

Challenges – These are the four doors through which you must pass to reach your highest attainments. The numbers representing the four doors define the difficulties and challenges you must confront.

Your 1st Challenge – Age 0 to 27 – The 4 Challenge – During this time of your life, you're learning the value of discipline, organization, thrift, practicality, and hard work. Restrictions and limitations are usually present in this period. The challenge is truly to work within these boundaries. This is a time for learning to curb impatience, stubbornness, narrow-mindedness, and self-righteousness.

Your 2nd Challenge – Age 27 to 36 – The 1 Challenge – During this time of your life you will learn how to stand up for yourself, to be true to your own beliefs and ideas, to be self-reliant, and to find the courage to lead. You will find yourself facing test after test to see if you have learned how to stand firm and not compromise yourself.

Your 3rd Challenge – Age 36 to 45 – The 3 Challenge – You will be learning to identify your feelings and to speak from the heart. Your words have a profound impact on your life. Stay away from superficiality, exaggeration, gossip, scattered energy, self-centeredness, moodiness, and talking just to hear yourself. Use your creative energy to create a loving, encouraging, positive and joyful spirit. Show your laughter and humor. Learn to have that unadulterated happiness within.

Your 4th Challenge – Age 45 to ? – The 5 Challenge – In a 5 challenge, you'll discover that the love of changing rules can bring impatience and restlessness and a desire for freedom in some way. Taking risks and being flexible are encouraged during this time. You will learn how to free yourself from limiting behaviors that are restricting your creative energy. Be careful of the urge to quit something before it's completed, of choosing love affairs that don't last, or overindulging in any addiction with this challenge number.

The Major Cycles

Major Cycles – These are the three divisions of your life that tell of the major themes governing your time here on Earth. These three numbers help to give meaning and focus to your pinnacles and challenges.

Your 1st Major Cycle – Age 0 to 27 – The 6 Major Cycle – During this cycle of your life, the issues of commitment, marriage, family, and responsibility all dominate, so this is the best cycle for marriage to a partner, because when one is committed, and can live with acceptance and respond lovingly, this is the cycle of the happy heart and happy home. However, it can also be a time if commitment cannot be made deeply or broken, that divorce or separation will occur. This is also a time that favors starting a business, especially one that is service oriented, in a home or a family-run business. Under this cycle new opportunities for self-expression are found as well such as gardening, painting, music, especially singing, decorating, or writing. This cycle is also a time for learning the lesson of co-dependence; that is to not subjugate your needs for another's.

Your 2nd Major Cycle – Age 27 to 54 – The 1 1/2 Major Cycle – During this cycle of your life, growth and understanding of higher human ideals will take place, and it's a time of inspiration, self-improvement, and hard won revelations about how life truly works. But it's only through a deep personal transformation and improvement of self-expression that you'll be able to bring forth these revelations because you were born to illuminate others and share with your community. The more willing you are to work on yourself, the more good you will do the larger world. This cycle requires courage, determination, and strength to delve deeply into a higher consciousness of universal principle and spiritual interconnectedness.

Your 3rd Major Cycle – Age 54 to ? – The 1 Major Cycle – During this cycle of your life, you'll gain independence and build self-confidence, although you may feel lonely or different. You'll need to stand for what you believe in. As a last cycle, you'll be assertive and proud and will discover new ways of doing things, maintaining your independence, and working on issues of integrity and self-discovery.

The Personal Years

Personal Years – This number tells you where to focus your energy for each year. The Personal Year Number indicates what you must face and accomplish to live in harmony with the natural flow of the year.

2009 – The 1 Personal Year – This is the year to begin any project. It is a time for independence, courage, taking charge, and applying yourself. Now is the time to start anew. Everything you do now will affect your future as you are planting seeds for your whole nine-year cycle. It's time to focus on you. Use this year to take self-improvement classes, change your image, and/or focus on your personal goals.

2010 – The 2 Personal Year – This is the year to back up and regroup. It's a time to listen to others, and perhaps defer to them. A time of waiting and delays, this isn't a year for getting things done, but you will be sensitive to the nuances of relationship and the needs of others. Unlike your previous year, this year your own needs will be secondary now. You may find yourself moving during this year, as this is a year of adaptability and balance. Cooperation is the lesson here. Use this year to listen, be sensitive, and take the time for others. More than any other year, this is the time to compromise and seek harmony in all that you do. It's a time for taking things slowly.

2011 – The 3 Personal Year – This is the year to learn to say what's in your heart, finding words for what you feel, and having to go out into the world and speak your truth. Once you've conquered this milestone, your creative juices will flow and then it's time for fun, creative endeavors, and playing with friends. It's the year to express you by writing, keeping a journal, painting, singing, dancing, or having many heart-to-heart discussions. More than any other year, this is the time to use your imagination.

2012 – The 4 Personal Year – This is the year to manage things, especially your health. It's a time to set things in order, set up systems, and lay down solid foundations for your future. Whether it is getting a home, having a family, getting insurance, or any other thing that is needed to establish a foundation piece of your life becomes important during this year. This year will take a lot of hard work. You may find during this year that you work on going back into the roots of your family and childhood years so it may even feel like the year from hell. But in doing so, you are putting down roots for the future. Use this year to make lasting decisions and put these into action. This is the year to make things secure.

2013 – The 5 Personal Year – This is the year of personal transition, when you will be working on transformation. This is a time of change: change of attitude, change of work, change of residence, change of direction. Travel is good during this year and you may find yourself doing a lot of it. You may also find yourself more curious on many levels during this year where you may seek metaphysics, taking classes, or investigating some new subject. This is the year to take risks. Use this year to make big changes in your life.

2014 – The 6 Personal Year – This is the year you will become needed by your family and loved ones. It's also a year that demands that you balance your domestic life with your work life, and you will be shown many opportunities to get this in balance even if it means getting another job. Marital issues move to the forefront during this year and you may find you re-commit to your relationship or decide not to during this time. Pay attention to your family duties and responsibilities and use this year to nurture and serve those you care about. More than any other year, this is the time to balance the needs of others with your own needs and it's a time for generosity and sympathy.

2015 – The 7 Personal Year – This is the year to move inside yourself. You'll need alone time and rest as you reexamine your goals, relationships, and the very direction for your life. Often during this year, you may find yourself drawn to the study of spiritual, mystical, or metaphysical subjects so if you find yourself questioning many things here, do not be afraid to look for a counselor, healer, or teacher who can help further your quest. This is also a year for body purification so diets, cleansing, and detoxifying programs may become of interest now. More than any other year, it's a time to be quiet and listen to your inner guidance.

2016 – The 8 Personal Year – This is the year to learn about your own power, to deal with authority issues, and to become the boss, because people will look to you during this year for your executive ability to act as an authority. This is the year where you'll be challenged to take the lead, stand up as an authority, and in that way, to begin to empower yourself with your full sense of power. Use this year to administrate something. More than any other year, this is the one to take the time to deal with the energy of power, money, and success, and to achieve something.

2017 – The 9 Personal Year – This is the year of rewards for all the effort you made in the past eight years. This is the end, the conclusion of the nine-year personal cycle, so the seeds you planted back in the 1 year are now harvested. This is the year of letting things go, finishing, and dreaming about the next nine years. It's a time to re-vision, dream, and envision once again how you would like your life to proceed and to allow things to conclude, and then wait, because the cycle begins again in the next year. This is a good money year because efforts of selfless giving and loving are favored and rewarded this year. Of course the inverse is true here too that if you've behaved selfishly, it may be a trying time for money. It's a big year to forgive and forget so use this year to complete things and bring things to closure on every level. More than any other year, this is a transformational year, an emotionally releasing year, so follow your intuition and seek to release and heal.

2018 – Your Personal Year goes back to 1 as in 2009 above. ☺

The Birthday Number

Birthday Number – This number indicates a special talent you possess. It also shows a particular lesson you're trying to learn in this lifetime.

Your Birthday Number is 11. With this Birthday number, you're born with idealism, inspiration, and innovation. You will seek balance and harmony and are a natural mediator in any situation. Adaptable and sensitive to others, you'll always be a peacemaker. In addition, you are both humble and confident. Balance is key for you to a harmonious life.

Miscellaneous Numerical Observations (if any)

If there are any repeating patterns in your numbers, this is where any comments would appear.

There are multiple occurrences of master numbers in your reading. Master numbers are 11's, 22's, or 33's, and they generally signify old souls who are brought here to do greater work for mankind. In your reading, there are multiple occurrences of the
