Mid-South Sight and Hearing Service 80th Anniversary

This past weekend was the 80th Anniversary for the Mid-South Sight and Hearing Service! Lion Greg told us that this was the first one he remembers that had snow. You can find pictures of the event at the Mid-South Facebook page and web site. This year's Hall of Honor inductions was special. They inducted Brian Staron. He came every year and performed as a magician. He died a month after he was voted in three years ago. Part was COVID and part was to let the family heal. Unfortunately, his oldest son has since also passed this last September. His mother and brother were able to attend the ceremony and it was a very moving induction.

Also inducted was Brad and Mona Baker. Their theme was Batman and Robin. They wore the appropriate costumes and had music to accompany it. Not to be outdone was their other inductee, Howard Jenkins. His theme was Superman. He didn't know why, but his son got him to wear a Superman t-shirt under his dress shirt. So, when he came up to the stage, he got to prove he was Superman by taking off his glasses and opening his dress shirt! It sure sounds like everyone there had a great time.

Meetings are noon every Wednesday at the Maritime and Seafood History Museum
