Everyone Communicates 911 Needs To Connect Class Update

The class Everyone Communicates 911 Needs To Connect launched in September 2018 in Davenport, Iowa. Since this time the class has been taught in several other locations throughout Iowa and the class is VERY POPULAR. The Q&A session with emergency responders has been very well received and everyone leaves feeling motivated. The best feedback is hearing, "ALL dispatchers should take this class." Fortunately, we have heard this feedback often and want to say THANK YOU to everyone for attending the class. Two pictures above from previous classes.

Where will 911 Gold Line Training Be Next?

911 Gold Line Training will be speaking in Dublin, Ireland in March 2019. Also, in March we will be traveling to North Carolina to teach two sessions of Everyone Communicates 911 Needs To Connect (EC911NTC). In May we will be teaching EC911NTC in Iowa. September we will be travelling to Nebraska to teach at their NESCA conference.

What does being a John Maxwell Team Speaker Mean?

Joe McCarville is the main speaker for 911 Gold Line Training. Joe is a certified John Maxwell Team Speaker. John Maxwell is an internationally recognized leadership expert, speaker, and author who has sold over 13 million books. Being a certified John Maxwell Team speaker allows classes from 911 Gold Line Training to incorporate some of the best personal development and leadership material into each class. This material is presented and then explained with real life stories from Joe's 18 years experience in 911 to ensure the material is relevant and beneficial to those in public safety.
