Empowering Primary School Teachers in Rural Africa: A Path to Quality Education

By Waka Social Foundation

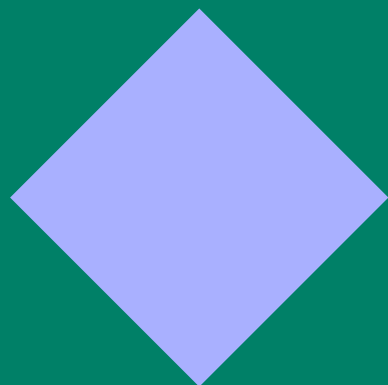

Did you know?

- Illiteracy affects more than 775 million persons over the age of 15. This equates to 17% of the world's adult population.
- Rural Africa faces a severe education crisis. Primary school teachers often lack resources and support to provide quality education. Students are left behind due to overcrowded classrooms and limited access to personalized learning.

Our Vision

Our goal is to create a world where every child in rural Africa has access to quality education powered by AI, and every teacher is equipped with AI tools to deliver personalized, effective, and engaging learning experiences.

We believe in universal education and literacy for both children and teachers.

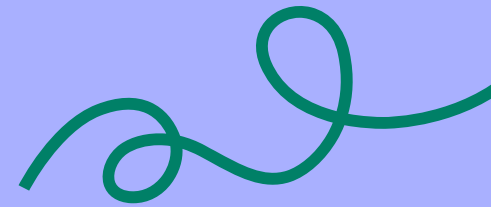

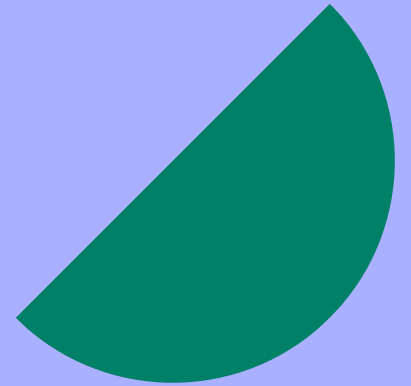

How We Provide Our Aid

Waka Social Foundation will educate and empower primary school teachers with cutting edge AI tools. These tools will motivate teachers, provide personalized learning materials, and offer support in tailoring education to individual student needs.

We make amazing things happen.

Teaching in Virtual Reality

Collaboration with BIVR Lab to Forge Virtual Classrooms and Gamified Learning Experiences for Students.

Financial Inclusion for Teachers

Many teachers in rural areas may not have access to traditional banking services. Our collaboration with a rural African FinTech company help these teachers open digital bank accounts or mobile wallets, enabling them to receive payments and access financial services more conveniently.

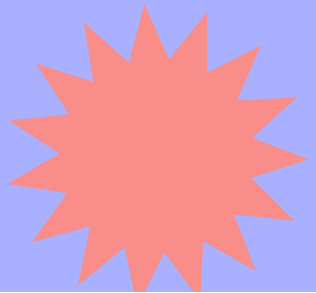

Access to financial services can contribute to teachers' overall wellbeing and job satisfaction. When teachers have financial security, they can focus more on their teaching responsibilities.

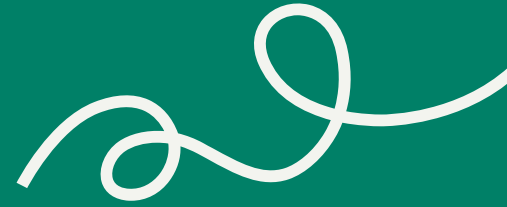

Market Opportunity

The need for accessible and effective education solutions in rural Africa is immense.
According to new calculations, to reach education goals by 2030, sub-Saharan Africa will need to recruit a 15 million teachers. - UNESCO
