

Dear All,

I hope you are well and enjoyed a good half term break.

As we now fast approaching the uniform purchasing period, I wanted to personally share the links to our New Starter Hub, Top Tips page and your free resources to help you communicate key information with parents this Back to School.

I hope this has already landed with you via our automated communications so please accept my apologies for resending if this is the case , however I just wanted to ensure that you have all the detail required to share with parents for uniform shopping this summer.

Please find below the following links –

- Resources – Please follow this link for downloadable mailings to share with your parents regarding our summer operational plans.
- Top Tips – A parent page detailing our top tips for their uniform shopping experience.
- New Starter Hub – This link will lead parents directly to our New Starter Hub on the website, including the appointment booking page.

If I could ask that you can ensure that parents receive the downloadable new starter information in our resources section, it would be much appreciated.

Should you have any questions or queries please do not hesitate to contact me directly at any point.

Thank you for your continued support.

Kind Regards

Joe Forrester
