From the Pastor's Pen

I love questions.

Questions open us up, cause us to search and look deeper or wider than perhaps we would normally turn our gaze. They turn up the soil, they expand our horizons, and they open portals into new dimensions. Questions invite power sharing, honor the individual and are provocative and disarming. Questions send us on a quest. Jesus knew the transformative power of questions and utilized their incisive edges quite often. In fact, I've been told he asked at least, 325 questions, 236 of them were unique. "What do you want me to do for you?" "What do you think?" "Who do you say that I am?" "Do you love me?" "Do you want to made well?" Which one of Jesus' questions is your favorite?

What questions are you asking in this season of your own life? What questions are you asking in this season of the life of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church?

How would you categorize the season of life that we are in? What do you long to see happen? What are you grieving, hoping for, and working towards? What part are you playing in helping live into the questions we are asking? How do you want to use your gifts, talents, and passions to envision and build the next chapter of ZELC?

Doubts are also a form of questions. Perhaps this is why I love Thomas? While Thomas never asked a direct question, he was present to his doubts, grief, wonderings, and curiosities, all implicit questions. Perhaps he wondered: why Jesus left them or how God could have let Jesus' death happen at all, or how it was possible that Jesus was physically alive or if the others were lying, among a myriad of other questions. Regardless, he stayed present to his doubts and questions in the context of his community. He kept seeking and asking. What about you? What doubts do you have? What do you need to "touch and see" so that God can help your unbelief about our current season?

Perhaps one of my all-time favorite quotes comes from the Ranier Marie Rilke, where he is offering advice to a young poet.

"Be patient toward all that is unsolved in your heart and try to love the questions themselves like locked rooms and like books that are written in a very foreign tongue. Do not seek the answers, which cannot be given you because you would not be able to live them. And the point is to live everything. Live the questions now. Perhaps you will then gradually, without noticing it, live along some distant day into the answer."

May God grant us the patience, creativity, and grace to live the questions of this season of our church and gradually live into their answers.

Pastor Scott

A Model of Stewardship – A Circle of Grace

The Circle of Grace Giving Model is one introduced by Laura Guenther Reesor, author of Growing a Generous Church: A Year in the Life of Peach Blossom Church.

In discussing stewardship Reesor starts with this model. The Circle of Grace Model begins with God. Every good thing comes from God. I know that's not news to you.

We don't earn our salvation; it is freely given.

Each day is a new gift of life. Through grace, everyone in the church is equally rich. Not measured by money, but by grace, we are all equally rich. Because we are all rich in grace, we all have grace to share.

God's love grants us generosity. Generosity is a way of life. What can we hold back and not share? The church is a gathering of disciples, helping each other to love God and love our neighbours with our whole selves. Giving in this way is much more inspiring.

Christians give because we are grateful, not because our church has an emergency and definitely not just to meet the budget. We give in response to a generous God.

As a congregation, all of us are receivers of God's grace. As we are all his disciples, we must choose to offer gracious actions to others, whether in the form of love or money in mission for others. Hopefully, they will do the same.

So, things to remember about the Circle of Grace Giving Model:

- God. God doesn't change. God is faithful today, next Tuesday, next week and next year.
- Worship. Our congregation can gather to worship. Even online. Even without a building, strategies, programs or goals, we can worship.
- Hope. We have hope. God is faithful, we can worship, and we are not alone. We have hope.

FROM THE OTHER PASTOR

Christ is risen! He is risen indeed! Halleluia! Easter is still being celebrated! How long ago lent seems. I would like to offer a HUGE word of thanks to those who brought in soup, sandwiches, and desserts to our fasting midweek meals. The amazing offerings and creative recipes added to the fellowship we were able to experience before we gathered for worship.

There were several youth and parents from the confirmation class who helped to make clean up after the meal a breeze. It was a great way for them to learn about feeling included in the community and working together as a team.

Another word of thanks to the musicians who helped to make our worship time so special. The singing and instrumentalists were able to add a very prayerful element that helped us prepare for the upcoming feast of Easter.

Most of all, thank you to those who participated in worship and meal during our mid week gatherings. We fasted, prayed, and gave offerings together in community. This opportunity gave us deeper meaning as we prepared our hearts for the resurrection celebration.

STEWARDSHIP

As the snow and ice finally finished melting, the truth of humankind was revealed. Garbage. Everywhere you go, you can see paper, plastic cans, and bottles peeking through the grass and bushes. It is an eyesore and fills me with sadness when I think of how beautiful our country and community can be.

We are called to be stewards, not just of the church and our homes but also of the earth. I know that many of us practice good recycling habits. This alone fills me with hope. For many and varied reasons, our garbage and recycling don't always make it to the right places. Sometimes, by no fault of our own garbage and recycling has been carried by the wind, by animals, or by carelessness to the streets, parks, and roadways in our town and surrounding areas.

What can we do? First and foremost, continue to recycle appropriately. Second, pray for the lakes and waterways, forests, and fields that you see and remember. Thirdly, take action. As the weather warms and you spend more time outside, pick up the debris you see. If there is no garbage-can close-by make a small pile and come back for it, or better yet, bring a bag with you on your walk to take home and dispose of it appropriately. Imagine how pleased God will be as God blesses us to be caretakers of creation.

My challenge to you this spring is to get out and find a spot where you can (safely) pick up debris and FILL a garbage bag! Take a picture of yourself with the full bag and send it to Pastor Scott or Pastor Sue.

See you at church!

Pastor Sue

Spring

Spring is the season of renewal and hope. Jesus has risen and the world is set to renew itself once again.

Winter is over. The last of the snow turns into life giving water so that the earth can begin a new life cycle. The robins sing their cheerful song each morning and night, the grass is a little greener each day, and the first shoots of new growth poke their heads from the ground.

Renewal and new growth take place everywhere and Zion is no exception. I see signs of new growth in the pews and I see signs of new growth in messy church. I see signs of new growth in the smiles at social hour and I hear signs of new growth in the laughter as we go about our business.

I have seen a tree growing on bare rock and I have seen grass growing out of pavement. They grow out of the pure belief that life is better in God's world. Think of what could happen to that tree and grass if it was supported by God's gardeners.

Many of us come from farming roots and many more are just natural gardeners' and I believe Jesus wants us to consider ourselves as the gardeners of his church and he wants us to tend to this new growth with water it so it grows strong.

Gardening is hard work, digging, hoeing, pruning, and everybody's favorite weeding. Watering is more fun as occasionally on a really hot day you might accidentally spray your spouse and then quickly beg forgiveness.

The tender care and nurturing of the new growth that we are doing today at Zion will reward us with a new crop that will sustain us going forward. Most importantly it will give you the satisfaction of knowing that the hard work you have done by being one of God's gardeners has created something of immeasurable value.

Just to be clear in our household it is my spouse who is the gardener and I am the one who occasionally accidentally on purpose sprays her.
