

VIP Efficiency was started to assist those who are having the same issues my mother had following the loss of her husband (my stepfather), and I wanted to share with you, my story.

After the passing of my stepfather a year ago, my mother needed help. Not only was she deeply saddened by the passing of her husband, but she was now burdened by managing and organizing all their personal, residential, and financial affairs. Like many children eventually do, I naturally stepped in to help lessen the load and take over these responsibilities for my mother.

When I did so, I slowly realized the storm I was stepping into. While my stepfather was a successful businessman, he was not organized and old schooled with his paperwork. He had no computer files, and the paperwork was all over the place. Each day while going through his paperwork at home I would find different documents in different rooms, drawers, and closets.

There was so much to do that it felt like a second job, and I realized that there must be many other people who are burdened with the same issue handling things as paying bills, organizing personal information, remembering usernames, passwords, pin #'s, Wi-Fi information, account #'s and much more.

This is when I decided to open VIP Efficiency, a company to assist in paying personal and house bills, organizing, and storing personal information in a secure and trusted manner. VIP Efficiency can make life easier not only for those who have lost a loved one, but also for those who aren't organized, efficient or computer savvy.

Thank you for taking the time to listen to my story. I am very proud to be able to assist my mother and others in the capacity that I do in reducing the amount of stress that comes from managing personal and financial affairs.

Please feel free to share this with anyone you think that may need our services.
