NEXT STEPS

Contact HATS Consulting to discuss how we can assist you with providing technical advisory services or training for your facilities and operations

GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT FRAMEWORKS

HATS understands that safe and responsible storage facility management and operation starts with a logical, robust and defensible Governance and Management Framework. Further, a truly effective framework must align with your company's overarching management systems and current industry practice.

HATS has worked with clients to produce such Governance and Management Frameworks for operations across the world. In addition, with our involvement with current industry guidelines, we are able to bring our understanding of the underlying intents of the guidelines to your Framework.

DESIGN TO CLOSURE

HATS is able to assist you with technical advisory services for all life phases of a water or tailings storage facility from concept to closure.

Our technical advisory services are based on comprehensive technical knowledge, an understanding of your operations and acknowledgement that our recommendations for the current situation has impacts on the future of your storage facility.

TRAINING WITH A PURPOSE

Safe, responsible and efficient management of storage facilities can be more effectively achieved by a team who are informed in dam safety and facility management and operation through training.

HATS provides storage facility training seminars for all personnel involved with the management and operations of a storage facility to provide an appropriate technical understanding of the specific storage facility as well as current industry requirements.

OUR SERVICE

HATS aims to maximise value to our clients through integrity, honesty and delivery on our commitments.

We bring our experience from working in an array of projects, operations, contexts and objectives to provide you with technical advice that effectively addresses your needs and that aligns with your project, operational and management context.
