ABOUT MAYFIELD-GRAVES COUNTY HAPPY FEET

Happy Feet Equals Learning Feet is a non-profit organization designed to provide underprivileged students with quality, name-brand athletic shoes. The Mayfield-Graves County Happy Feet program was launched in 2014 and benefits students in both the Graves County School District and the Mayfield Independent School District.

Happy Feet Equals Learning Feet was started by retired coal miner, Jerry Baird in Union County in 2009. Since that time, it has spread to 17 counties in Western Kentucky and two locations in Southern Illinois. Each county has its own committee and fundraises to provide shoes for their county. Eligible students are identified by the Family Resource Centers at each school. Happy Feet's mission is to improve students' physical and mental health by removing one of the stumbling blocks from optimum school performance. A new, well-fitting pair of shoes can build self-esteem and prevent bullying.

With the continued support of the community, the Mayfield-Graves County Happy Feet program can continue to fulfill their mission to help local students by "putting shoes on their feet and smiles on their faces."
