Managed ENDPOINT

Protection for you computers, workstations and laptops that stops the bad guys in their tracks.

Redefining Endpoint Protection

Security threats are multiplying and morphing at an unprecedented rate. The threats are getting more sophisticated and traditional Anti-Virus just doesn't work. Inceptus' Managed ENDPOINT unifies prevention, detection, and response into a service that blocks threats and keeps you safe on the Internet no matter where you are. Our solution is powered by artificial intelligence, machine learning and automation giving real-time remediation from security incidents before they cause havoc. This means that it stops Ransomware, Malware and Zero-Day's in their tracks before it can cause harm to your data. Inceptus' analysts monitor your Endpoints 24x7 from our Security Operations Center's (SOC) to provide the highest level of protection for your organizations endpoints.
