Animals behave in unpredictable ways when injured, ill, frightened, or agitated. This can be especially true for animals being housed in a shelter environment and subject to numerous strangers.

For my safety and that of the animals, I agree to follow Ruff Life Rescue's instructions for safe animal handling.

I further acknowledge that I am aware of the risk of physical injury that can result from feral or domesticated animals and I have assumed all risks of being in proximity to animals.

I agree to hold Ruff Life Rescue & Rehabilitation, Inc., its directors and volunteers, and any third party harmless for any legal or financial responsibilities for any personal injuries or loss of property I may sustain as a result of my volunteer activities.

Volunteers are strongly urged to carry adequate health insurance coverage for any illness or injury that may result from proximity to animals.

For those who do not wish to assume these risks or who do not have insurance, Ruff Life Rescue welcomes your interest in volunteering for activities that will not bring you in close proximity to animals.
