EDITORIAL NOTES

JULY 1970

Our apologies for having no news on Tribal Warfare. Unfortunately, we couldn't get that area organized.

In the future, send your Letters to the Editor to Dan and he will see that they are used. We're sorry that no one was interested enough to write one this time.

NEWS IN BRIEF -- bob braddick

At a recent news conference, President Nixon affirmed his basic Vietnam policy. He stressed the goal of free elections in the South. The President also stated that David Bruce, Chief Negotiator at Paris, would have "new instructions" and greater lattitude at the talks.

The Royal Allert Docks Docks in East London remain motionless as dockmen sit gazing out to sea while sipping their beer. The strike has created a large produce shortage throught the country.

President Nixon sees an upturn in the economy. He has claimed inflation has cooled and the second half of this year will bring prosperity. Only time will tell is this is true.

A well-informed diplomatic source in Cairo said recently that Egyptian officials had told the U.S. they were ready to go along with Secretary of State Rogers' plan in his peach initiative last month.

SAILOR'S WARE -- guy grant

Those campers who have a sense of adventure and like the exciting and unusual have been well cared for this year by the Sailing Department. A good example of this is the Balloon Hunt organized by Jay Mason, the Sailing Master. This event had eager campers sailing the length and breadth of Trout Lake in pursuit of some very elusive balloons. The tactics adopted by the campers to capture the balloons were interesting and unusual. Perhaps the most spectacular were those of Matt Nemerson and his crew, who capsized their boat beside a balloon!!

This year there have been only a few capsizings, but one of the worst occurred last week when the sailing tower was blown over during a thunderstorm. However, unlike the boats, it was easily righted and little damage was done.

The racing on the lake always provides excitement and entertainment. The highlight of the racing program has been the races between Scotland and the U.S.A. for the Trout Lake World Championship. At the time of going to press, the series is tied at one win for each country. In races for campers, Andy Klein continues to dominate, but his prowress is being challenged seriously by several other campers.

Next week begins the Sailing Trip on Lake George. It is expected that this will again provide fun and excitement!

SWIMMERS' ITCH -- bob birchenough

Despite rumors of cold water, all campers managed to enter the envigorating waters of Trout Lake. Word has it that even Coach Russell was seen in bathing trunks on the raft.

Senior and Junior Life Savers, as well as Bob Latour, swam across the lake and back despite the ever-present peril of the Trout Lake Monster.

In the Fishing Tournament, the competition has been dominated by Mike Finnerty and David Nemerson in the Juniors, and Jeff Ziegler, Al Johnson, and David Kapilow in the Seniors.

Each day one sees Josh Gammon and Rich Dunn swimming lap after lap in preparation for competition in school. Each has shown steady improvement under the able eye of Coach Russell.

Many campers have either passed or are about to pass into the next higher swimming category. Two Juniors, Tony Tarafa and John Fullerton, are already in the Advanced Swimming Class.

In Competition, Camp Timlo will travel to Brant Lake for an Invitational on July 26. Other meets to look forward to are with the Lake George Club, a dual meet with Brant Lake and Forest Lake here, and Camp Chingacook and Camp Cayuga.

TRIPPING NEWS

MOUNT MARCY - (July 6 - 9) This was for Cabins 7 & 8. The rats got their food one night.

MOUNT PHAROH - (July 9 - 11) This was for Cabins 4,5, & 6. They were rained out of tents.

TURTLE ISLAND - (July 13 & 14) This was for Cabin 1 & 2. They had a vulture attack!

RAQUETTE RIVER - (July 20 - 25) For Cabins 9, 10, & 11. They are still out at press time.

Coming soon --- (1) 50-Mile Hike along the Appalachian Trail, July 27 - August 1; (2) Sailing Trip on Lake George, July 30 to August 1.

CO-ED CORNER - susan wallin

The social season at Camp Timlo started with a mixer between Cabins 9, 10, & 11, and Tans 1, 2, & 3 from Pine Log. We had an indoor picnic in the Rec Hall due to inclement weather, followed by singing and dancing in the Lodge. After the firsttrials of speaking to the opposite sex were overcome, the evening was a great success. It was even rumored that C.R. got to kiss his girl goodnight.

The next event was a Sailing Mixer for Cabins 9 & 10 with Tans 1 & 2. The girls arrived about 3:00 in time for sailing races and swimming. This was followed by a cookout and volleyball. This was closely followed by a C.I.T. picnic at Pine Log. We had a very nice cookout on the Point which was highlighted by a log-rolling exhibition by Rudy Schmidt and Rich Dunn. The picnic was followed by a twilight swim and canoeing.

Just recently we had Brother-Sister Day at Pine Log. Unfortunately this was rained out. However, before the storm hit, the brothers were shown around the camp, ate lunch, and had some time to visit with their sisters. All was not lost!

This week Cabins 4, 5, 6, 7, & 8 were invited to Pine Log for a dance. What can I say? With this group of charmers, nothing but the most swinging evening was possible.

NURSERY NOTES

Congrats to all campers and counsellors! It seems as if you've set a record for staying healthy. No visits to the doctor have been necessary as of press time; only one visit to the dentist, and one x-ray. Keep up the good work! Continue to help each other be safety and health conscious.

During the last week we have had one regular male resident. A little tyke, no elevated temperature (although we haven't technically checked this out), no sore throat or rash, and a very good appetite. He has many friends and visitors, sleeps a lot when here, but doesn't go ape over the comic books like most fellows here. He's up and about now around camp, and gets lots of T.L.C. from everyone. We just hope he has some fur left at the end of camp!

Watch out for those bare feet. A word to the wise should be sufficient!!

Infirmary hours are after breakfast and after evening meal. For emergency, come anytime. Jay Mason has been seeing patients on the Nurse's day off.

INTER-CAMP COMPETITION - brad wagner

To date the boys of Camp Timlo have done an honorable job. In our first big all-day competition with Forest Lake things went very badly in the morning as we lost just about everything. However, we reversed things in the afternoon. A tie was the end result of the competition, with the most dramatic victories being swimming, sailing, and senior tennis. The soccer match with Forest Lake did not go quite as well as we lost 2-1 in a close match.

The tennis team beat the Lake George Club in a not-so-close match. We won 4-1 behind the big serve of Jim Hessberg and the steady play of Charles Duguay. There are many other competitions scheduled for the remaining weeks of camp and everyone is urged to sign up for at least one team. Next Monday will start off a big week of competition with sailing races and a swim meet against the Lake George Club.

SPORTS NEWS

Mantle May Return As Manager - mark parker

Ex-Yankee star Mickey Mantle may return to the Major Leagues as a Manager. Yes, the famed Mickey may return to baseball, but not as Manager of the Yankees as Ralph Houk seems to have it wrapped up. Mickey dropped this hint while eating lunch at a baseball clinic in Miami.

Was That Ester Williams? It may seem questionable and it may even be hard to believe, but -- Molly "Ester" Mason and Wendy "Williams" Southworth swam across Trout Lake this week. Now that's showing some athletic ability -- and it only took them forty minutes!
