

Benefits of Membership

ARMY ENGINEER MAGAZINE

The Army Engineer Magazine is our crowning jewel. The most current one is <https://armyengineer.com/army-engineer-association-oct-2020/>. We encourage you and your unit to submit an article.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION PROGRAMS

AEA has several award and recognition programs that are focused on individuals and units. As a member of AEA, you are eligible for consideration for a de Fleury or to recommend a de Fleury recipient.

SCHOLARSHIPS

You are eligible for the award of an academic scholarship for yourself or family members that are presented annually in several categories.

ARMY ENGINEER E-NEWS

For the latest USACE activities, please sign up for our Army Engineer eNews as a benefit of membership. Please go to <https://multibriefs.com/optin.php?aea>.

CAREER CENTER

Through our Career Center, AEA is committed to assisting soldiers in their transition to civilian life by finding the right career opportunities in our engineering community. We invite job seekers and talent seekers to explore new career opportunities by connecting with our network which includes USACE and private sector associates.

REGIMENTAL STORE

Discounts at the Engineer Regimental Store. Members receive a 10% discount on the purchase of merchandise.

AEA INDUSTRY SEMINAR

AEA Industry Seminar will be a virtual event and no cost to members for 2021. We plan to cover construction and equipment. USACE will provide a program update, USACE Alternate Care Facilities COVID response and AE Contracts & partnering update. We will build a panel discussion for the following topic: Industry Perspectives on the Application/Feasibility of Implementing Modular Construction as a Delivery Method (e.g., use on large vs. small projects, contingency, disaster response, DB vs. DBB)

We offer professional development hours for our seminars as well.

REGIMENTAL WEEK

Engineer Regimental Week at Fort Leonard Wood is tentatively scheduled for April 2021 at FLW, MO. USAES is currently developing their concept.

ARMY ENGINEER CASTLE BALL

The Army Engineer Castle Ball will be late July or early August 2021. LTG Spellmon has decided to award the 2020 Gold de Fleury in 2021. This prestigious award deserves the benefit of a public event to celebrate the contributions of these outstanding Engineers. We look forward to congratulating the 2020 and 2021 recipients at these events.

AEA exists to help unify, inform, recognize members of the Engineer Regiment, support Regimental capabilities, promote esprit de corps, and preserve heritage.
