Fastball game bugged-out

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — Call it the ultimate fly-out.

Thousands of shadflies and mosquitoes went into the Amelia Park on Wednesday night, but fans, players, officials and some swarmed park lights, went out.

About an hour into a fastball game between Sturgeon Falls and North Bay, the bugs were bugging people.

Soon the stands emptied. Outfielders, no stranger to flies of any sort, started complaining. Batters began swinging even before they reached the plate.

"They (the insects) just kept coming in to the brightly-lit park," said infield umpire Don Turcotte. "You knew there were lights out there, but you couldn't really see them."

By the top of the fifth, half an inning shy of a complete game under local fastball rules, umpire Jeff Wonnick had had enough.

The game was bugged-out.
