Saints eye OCAA title

St. Clair to host fastball tourney starting Friday

BY DAVE WADDELL
STAR SPORTS WRITER

A late-season swoon cost them first place, but they're hoping to rediscover that magic in the playoffs that made them the best team in the league until the final two weeks of the schedule.

This isn't the tale of the World Series-bound Detroit Tigers, but the St. Clair Saints women's fastball team.

And they would be more than happy to follow their lead this weekend when they host the OCAA Fastball Championship Tournament, which begins Friday.

"Every team has its ups and downs," said Saints first baseman Jackie Desjardins, who leads the team with a .486 batting average. "We're quite confident. The strongest team always comes out on top in the end."

In addition to the second-seeded Saints and third-ranked Mohawk, the top-seeded Durham Lords and fourth-ranked Seneca Braves round out the field in the double-knockout tourney.

The Saints open against the Mohawk Mountaineers Friday at 2 p.m. at Mic Mac Park.

With seven returnees, including five starters, from last year's OCAA championship club, Desjardins is confident the Saints can recover the form that saw them win their first eight games.

Jackie Desjardins

With seven returnees, including five starters, from last year's OCAA championship club, Desjardins is confident the Saints can recover the form that saw them win their first eight games.

"That experience is nice to have, especially with the tournament here in Windsor," Desjardins said. "We feel like we're defending our home turf, not just our championship."

Such talk will no doubt be a comfort to head coach Bill Smith's ears. The only skipper the Saints' fastball program has ever known feels his team simply had an emotional letdown near the end of the season.

"I think emotion will be the key for us," Smith said.

"If they have that emotion and intensity, their bats will work for them. We just didn't have the big innings we usually got in the games we lost."

One-run decisions

The Saints will need to have the sticks sizzling right out of the gate when they expect to face Mohawk ace Jenny Koschanow in their opener. The teams split a pair of one-run decisions during the season.

"She's very fast and she's got good control," Smith said.

The Saints will send Melissa Galamb (3-0, 2.22 ERA) to the mound Friday. Galamb is one of four Saints pitchers ranked in the top 10 in the league in ERA.

However, the Saints also have plenty of pop in their lineup to go with a deep pitching staff.

Smith is hoping that balance, led by Desjardins, Maggie Gray (.400 average) and Trish Whaley (.432 average) will be enough to carry the Saints through the weekend.

The title game is Saturday at Mic Mac Park (5 p.m.).

SAINTS TAKE SILVER

The St. Clair Saints had to settle for silver at this weekend's OCAA women's fastball championships held at Mic Mac Park.

The Saints dropped a pair of tight decisions to the eventual champion Durham Lords to be eliminated in the double-knock-out tournament Saturday.

In their first meeting, the Saints lost 4-3 in extra innings forcing them to beat the Lords twice in the gold-medal round. However, the Lords finished off the Saints with a 5-3 decision to wrest the OCAA crown away from the defending champions.

The Saints ensured themselves the silver medal by downing the Mohawk Mountaineers 3-1 in the game to decide the final two medals.

St. Clair's Natalie Taylor did snare the tournament's biggest consolation prize by earning the most valuable player honours. Durham's Danielle Smith was named the tournament's top pitcher.

Saints silence the naysayers

St. Clair dominates Mohawk

By DAVE WADDELL
STARSPORTS WRITER

Expectations of the St. Clair Saints' imminent demise appear to have been greatly exaggerated.

After losing three of their final four games to end the regular season, the whispers began to circulate the defending OCAA women's softball champs were mere shadows of their former selves.

The second-ranked Saints silenced such talk with a near flawless 7-1 hammering of the third-seeded Mohawk Mountaineers in the opening game of the double-knockout OCAA championship tournament at Mic Mac Park.

"It's been a little extra motivator for us," said leadoff hitter Natalie Taylor of the perception the Saints were vulnerable.

"We're not seeded No. 1, but we came here to show that we are No. 1. We're going to be the champions again."

With Taylor back in the lineup for the first time since injuring her knee in late September, the Saints re-ignited their offence.

Taylor had a pair of hits in three at bats, was walked, scored three times and stole a base.

"Nat's but we can always rely on," said Saints pitcher Melissa Galamb, who scattered five Mohawk hits over seven innings while striking out four.

Taylor, who still requires surgery on her knee, got the Saints off to a good start by drawing a walk in the bottom of the first.

She then surprised everyone by going all the way to third on Candace Gatecliffe's sacrifice bunt. Maggie Gray cashed Taylor with a sacrifice fly to left.

"We want to be as aggressive as we can all the time," Taylor said.

St. Clair stole five bases, including home, to make the most of their nine hits against losing pitcher Katie Westoby.

The Mountaineers tied it at 1-1 in the top of the second and could've had a second run, but left-fielder Rebecca Prince gunned down Danielle Cook at the plate to end the inning.

Three runs

In the third inning, Taylor scored on an error. Gatecliffe came in on Rhiana Tessier's base hit and Trisha Whaley stole home.

St. Clair added two in the fifth on RHH doubles by Whaley and Lindsay Verkoeyen and completed the scoring in the sixth when Gatecliffe's two-bagger scored Taylor from first.

The other game Friday saw the top-ranked Durham Lords beat fourth-seeded Seneca 5-0.

The Saints face Durham at noon today at Mic Mac Park. The gold-medal round gets underway at 5 p.m.
