The road to playoff success runs through Oshawa this weekend for a pair of St. Clair College teams.

Durham is hosting the Saints as part of the 2007 OCAA women's fastball championships and the Lords are playing St. Clair in a women's soccer quarter-final Saturday.

While the Saints are the top seed in fastball, they're distinct underdogs in Saturday's 2 p.m. soccer game.

The Durham Lords are the No. 1 ranked team in the country and haven't lost a game in two years.

"Essentially, we have to steal one off them," Saints coach Dan Docherty said.

"We'll have to play it defensively. We want to keep it tight as long as we can. The longer we can, the more frustrated they'll become."

St. Clair went 3-3-1 in the OCAA's west division, where much of the team's offensive load fell across the shoulders of Brittany Pulman.

Sullo in net

"We're not a high scoring team to begin with," Docherty said. "We have Brittany doing double duty as a striker and a midfielder."

"We move her around to try and steal goals here and there."

Backup Steph Sullo will be in St. Clair's net as injury continues to sideline Carrie Long.

In fastball, both the Saints and Lords finished the season with 9-1 records. The regular season title went to St. Clair on a tiebreaker.

2005 and the Lords took it back in 2006.

If success in 2007 is based on pitching, then St. Clair has the edge, boasting the top two in ERA across the league.

Kandice Bagley (5-0) and Candice Gatecliffe (3-1) dominated on the mound while second-year infielder Trisha Whaley paced a potent offence. Whaley won the OCAA batting title with a .571 average. St. Clair's lineup contains six of the league's top 10 hitters.

"This has been a great team all year," coach Bill Smith said. "As long as they stay focused, it's a tough lineup. There are just no holes."

Catcher Lindsay Verkoeyen and first baseman Jackie Desjardins are two key holdovers from the '05 championship team.

"Player for player, we're a better team (than '05)," Smith said. "We're deeper at every position and I have more flexibility."

The Saints open the tournament Friday with a 1 p.m. game against Mohawk.
