Coach succeeds founder Smith

The St. Clair Saints handed off the reins of their successful women's fastball team to Doug Wiseman, one of the area's winningest coaches. Wiseman was officially introduced as the successor to program founder Bill Smith, who stepped down in May after 11 seasons that featured a run of eight consecutive OCAA medals, including back-to-back gold medals.

Wiseman joined Smith's staff last season and, after getting the call last Friday that the head job was his, he quickly signed on veteran coaches Mike Sikora and Jim Stonehouse to join holdover assistant Kelli Paquette on his staff. "It's a great mix," Wiseman said. "It's a real comfort zone for me. These two guys were my top choices."

DAN JANISSE/The Windsor Star
Doug Wiseman was introduced Tuesday as the new women's fastball coach at St. Clair College. The Saints have won eight OCAA titles in 11 seasons.

"Our vision is probably winning more than anything else."

Wiseman has done that at every level he's coached.

He led the Windsor Wild intermediate team to a provincial title and the national finals last summer. They were also provincial finalists in 2010.

His Villanova team dominated WECSSAA fastball and slow pitch for six years. He has also coached the Windsor Wildcats and the Lady Expos.

Doug Wiseman

"I really enjoyed last year with the Saints," he said. "It was a new challenge."

Wiseman expects to put his own stamp on the club as it takes shape for the 2013 fall season.

"I think you'll see a different brand," he said. "Probably a faster team. Definitely more of an aggressive team."

He expects to have a strong pitching core with the return of ace Alexa Georgiou and the return to health after a two-year absence of Allie Telfer. He's also got a lefty coming from Guelph and Team Ontario catcher Amelia Miniuk to handle the staff.

He has eight eligible to return and as many recruits ready to jump in. "Hopefully, we'll do a fine job and fill those big shoes (of Smith's)," he said.
