

Hello, Friends!

Happy Saturday!

Better late than never! Apologies on the delay of my weekly newsletter. I had total techno trauma over the last 48 hours. Thank goodness for cloud back-ups, however know that even having a backup sync every 24 hours, still leaves up to 23 hours, and 59 minutes that hasn't backed up. So, I spent a lot of time downloading back-ups and recreated a few things over the last 24 hours, minus a mini-break to go see A Star is Born (which was awesome)! Hence the delay! Apologies again.

On to more pleasant things! Progress is being made on my Timeless with a Twist Book Series. This week we are on the block 35 of 48, so we are almost finish testing. We've commence layout of the first 12 blocks. I can't wait to see the mock-ups! Over the next 12 weeks, I will be putting up the last 13 blocks and 3 more settings. The settings may extend a bit into 2019. We will have to see what time allows.

I have 2 more Retreats this year, and a couple more Guild visits, plus one more scheduled class at the Yankee Quilter. So, my travel schedule should be slowing down a bit in a few weeks. Which makes room for creation time in the Studio. In addition to my Timeless with a Twist Book Series, I have few more patterns in the works.

Speaking of Retreats, in another week, I will be off to Rangeley, Maine to prepare for Fall Quilt Camp. I absolutely love the Fall Quilt Camp! Speaking of Fall Camp, did you catch my announcement last week?

New Pattern ~ BE DAZZLED!

Be Dazzled is a modern merging of Ohio Stars and Shaded Nine-Patch comes together to dazzle! Be Dazzled is a splendid combination of traditional and modern. It is a wonderful creative use of those blender fabrics! The negative space amongst the Shaded Nine-Patch units creates a unique secondary design, which provides an excellent space for custom quilting to accentuate your design.

Be Dazzled looks great on any color background fabric and comes together easily with the S180 Tucker Trimmer™ and Tucker Trimmer II™. Per usual, I offer three finished Quilt Sizes: Throw: 69" x 69", Twin 75" x 102", Queen 102" x 102".

Looking for a Fall Retreat for this year?

My only Fall 2018 Retreat with spots remaining is my November Retreat at the Strong House.
