A story about a unicorn who lives in the Land of Silver Sparkles where the resident glories of unicorns only see the color of silver. Our unicorn protagonist dreams in brilliant colors, and after waking from another colorful dream, she decides she will go on an adventure to find this Land of Colors!

During her journey thru the wilderness, she encounters orchestral instruments playing in the woods. However, something is amiss with each instrument as a strange sound occurs amidst wonderful tunes. The unicorn approaches and inquires about what the instruments is and how the sound is being made, providing kids with a fun-filled introduction to orchestral instruments. The unicorn interacts with each instrument asking about how they work and identifying key components of the instruments (such as the the slide, valves, strings, keys, bows, mouthpieces etc.) She discovered the difference between buzzing, blowing, and bowing!

The musicians communicate thru their instruments by playing notes and sounds, which the unicorn translates for the audience. Once the interaction is complete around 'how the sound is made', the unicorn inquires about the "wonky note". An exploration ensues 'searching' for the culprit of the wonky note - a colored scarf 'hidden' in the instrument! Once the scarf is removed, the instrument can play all the notes, and our Unicorn can see a new color! This proceeds through the colors of the rainbow. Each time, the unicorn adds the new scarf to her mane having a complete rainbow mane by the end of the show after helping o=all her new friends along the way!

Music includes original tunes; Land of Colors, If You've Got the Sun, and Purple!

SOMEWHERE over the rainbow

Narrator: Once upon a time, there was a young unicorn, who lived in the Land of Silver Sparkles, where all the unicorns there were the color of shimmering silver, and they looked upon their silver world pleasantly. Every night all the glories of unicorns had magical dreams of sparkling silver. All but one that is. Only one unicorn in the Land of Silver Sparkles had dreams different than the others. This unicorn was named JenUwin and she dreamt in brilliant colors every night. She soon began to believe that there could be a possibility that this place of colors could exist. One morning after yet another colorful dream she awoke with determination to go on an adventure to find this... LAND OF COLORS!

THE LAND OF COLORS

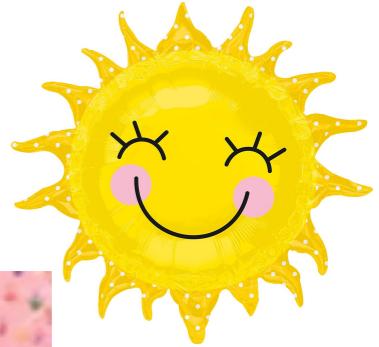

*I want to go to the Land of Colors, a place that must be real
For I dream every night in colors, it can't be only surreal*

*I will search for the Land of Colors, a place that must exist
I will find the Land of Colors, a journey I cannot resist*

Narrator: And so, JenUwin the Unicorn prepared herself for travel, an unknown journey, and headed into the mysterious musical wilderness that surrounded the Land of Silver Sparkles. As she set out, she sang a tune to give her courage and hope for her adventure.

IF YOUVE GOT THE SUN

*If you've got the sun and if you've got the rain
And you look up at the sky with a 42 angle plane
And you hope and you wait and you watch the clouds go by
You might find oh you might find*

Narrator: She had not traveled long before she heard something in the wilderness. Out of curiosity, she followed her ears. Something about the sound was appealing, yet there was a strange sound and a frustrated gasp that accompanied the beautiful melody. JenUwin the Unicorn approached gingerly.

TROMBONE

RED

JenUwin encounters a TROMBONE in the forest playing a musical excerpt (Aladdin). However, a strange sound keeps happening. The Unicorn approaches the Trombone and asks questions. The Trombone replies by improvised playing/talking thru the instrument.

The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: JenUwin the Unicorn continued on her journey, happily singing a song, enjoying seeing the new color of RED all around her. Seeing this color made her hopeful and excited to continue her adventure to find the Land of Colors. As she walked, she noticed tiny RED flowers along her path.

THE LAND OF COLORS

*I am going to the Land of Colors, an adventure I will have
To see the Land of Colors, a journey that makes me glad*

*I see the Land of Colors, a rainbow in sky
A place of colorful creatures, will they be like you and I?*

Narrator: JenUwin the Unicorn then continued on prancing through the wilderness. She passed many streams and a few waterfalls before she heard something - it seemed far away and her curiosity and keen ears lead the way. After a while, she encountered another instrument playing in the forest.

TRUMPET ORANGE

JenUwin encounters a TRUMPET playing an excerpt (cavalry) but an oddly weird sound keeps coming out. The Unicorn approaches the Trumpet and asks questions. The Trumpet can only reply by improvised playing/talking thru the instrument. The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: And JenUwin the Unicorn continued on her journey. She traveled over rocks, and under tress and across long meadows filled with wildflowers and buzzing insects. She delighted in all the shades of RED and ORANGE she saw around her as she pranced upon her way. Later on, she again heard another sound in the wilderness. What was it?, she wondered. She followed her ears and curiosity until she found the source of the sound. Again, it sounded lovely, but a bit strange. She approached carefully not wanting to startle the instrument.

BASSOON YELLOW

JenUwin encounters a BASSOON playing an excerpt (Peter and the Wolf, Grandfather's theme) but a strange sound keeps occurring. The Unicorn approaches the bassoon and asks questions. The bassoon replies by improvised playing/talking thru the instrument. The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: And JenUwin the Unicorn continued on her journey thru the colorful musical forest. She was utterly delighted to now see three different colors, RED, ORANGE and now YELLOW. She wondered if there was somehow a relationship between these colors. As she thought while she walked and new words came to her for a tune she already knew! The words helped her understand the connection of how two colors put together can make a third color.

IF YOUVE GOT ORANGE

red/trombone + yellow/bassoon = orange/trumpet

If you've got red and if you've got yellow

And you put them altogether to make another color

And you mix, and you stir, and you slosh them all around

You might, find oh you might, find

That orange is the color of fruit that is round

Narrator: What would she encounter next on her adventure to find the Land of Colors? She was thick in the trees now, the leaves casting a shimmering lights down upon her. Then, she heard a beautiful melody singing through the trees. Her curiosity and ears lead her to another lone instrument in the forest. She approached gently and with awe.

DOUBLE BASS GREEN

JenUwin encounters a STRING BASS playing an excerpt (Saint-Saëns, The Swan) but a strange sound occurs. The Unicorn approaches and asks questions. The Bass replies by improvised playing/talking thru the instrument.
The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: And JenUwin the Unicorn left the Double Bass to play in the trees. As she wandered on, more new words came to her for the tune she already knew. Again, these new words helped her understand the connection between colors and how new colors come about from mixing other colors!

IF YOUVE GOT GREEN

yellow/bassoon + blue/violin = green/bass

*If you've got yellow and if you got blue,
and you mix them all together to make another hue
And you mix, and you stir, and you slosh them all around
You might, find oh you might, find
That GREEN is the color that you see on the ground*

Narrator: And JenUwin the Unicorn continued on her journey in the musical forest filled with shades of RED, ORANGE, YELLOW, and now GREEN. The light above her was sparkling GREEN and the forest shown of various hues. She saw GREEN moss and YELLOW flowers, GREEN stems and RED petals. She saw the YELLOW sun and the ORANGE reflection on the clouds. She pranced her way on until she heard another sound, just a bit further off in the distance. Her ears and curiosity lead her to an open grove where there was another instrument playing in the forest.

VIOLIN BLUE

Unicorn encounters a VIOLIN playing an excerpt (something) but an odd sound comes out. The Unicorn approaches and asks questions. The Violin can only reply by playing/talking thru the instrument. The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: And JenUwin the Unicorn continued on her journey with much more vigor than before. She could feel the colors coming alive around her and she felt closer to her destination of the Land of Colors. She pranced on bounding over large rocks and wider streams. She sang while she pranced. What would she encounter next?

IF YOU'VE GOT PURPLE

red/trombone + blue/violin = purple/saxophone

*If you've got red and if you got blue, and you put them together to make another hue
And you mix, and you stir, and you slosh them all around
You might, find oh you might, find that PURPLE is a color with shades of many kinds*

Narrator: It wasn't long before she heard a sound coming from not too far away. She let her ears and curiosity lead the way until she came upon another instrument playing in the woods. She looked up and saw BLUE sky, she saw ORANGE clouds, RED and YELLOW flowers and lots and lots of GREEN as she walked thru the forest. As she got closer to the sound, she thought she might encounter some kind of rare bird for what she heard was so unusual.

ALTO SAXOPHONE PURPLE

Unicorn encounters a SAXOPHONE playing an excerpt (snake charmer theme) but a stranger than usual sound occurs. The Unicorn approaches and asks questions. The Saxophone replies by improvised playing/talking thru the instrument.

The conversation goes something like this:

Narrator: Suddenly, JenUwin the Unicorn is hit with inspiration. She finds a ukulele hanging from a tree nearby. She picks its up, ready to sing an informative and playful song all about her love for Purple!

*I am in the Land of Colors, I see colors of every hue orange, yellow, purple and green, and yes, even blue
I love the Land of Colors, where things are in harmony
That's because all the colorful creatures, are kind to everyone they see*

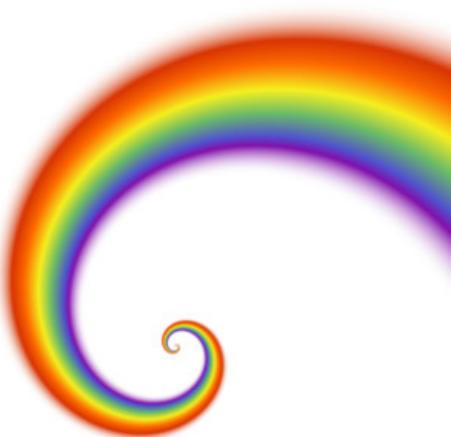

Narrator: JenUwin the Unicorn pranced about, enjoying and the colors and celebrating her triumphant arrival to the Land of Colors, which must have been around her all along. Because of her curiosity, kindness and helpfulness, she gained the ability to see that that Land of Colors is all around and what is most important, is to find your true color within and let it shine.

IF YOUVE GOT THE SUN

*If you've got the sun and if you've got the rain,
go look for the cloud that is making the rain
If you watch, and you wait, and you see the sun shine nigh
You will, find oh you will, find
A sparkly band of colors called a rainbow in the sky*

JenUwin: I am so glad I took an adventure and sought out what I believed to be true. I went to new lands and I gained my true colors through helping other people along my journey. Now I have a rainbow adventure to bring home and share with my glory in the Land of Silver Sparkles, maybe they will begin to see colors all around too!

SING A RAINBOW

*Red and yellow and pink and green, orange and purple and blue
I can sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow too*

*Listen with your ears, and listen with your eyes and hear everything you see
You can sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow, sing along with me*

*Red and yellow and pink and green, orange and purple and blue
I can sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow too*

Narrator: JenUwin the Unicorn learned that problems arise in the midst of beauty and help is always near and available. When we help others along our own journey, we let our light shine by helping their light shine, and when we do that, all that light adds to the rainbow of the world so that we may all live Happily Ever After in THE LAND OF COLORS!
