LATE-NIGHT-MIX

Shaun LaBelle's new smash hit single 'Your Love Kept Calling My Name' featuring Maysa Leak, Stokley Williams, Jeff Lorber, Patrick Lamb and Maurizio Metalli has been rocking the UK Soul Charts at the top position for over a month, now.

Shaun was so overwhelmed and inspired by the success of this single that he went back to his studio and brought in his close musical colleague from Italy - Maurizio Metalli to create a sexy-late night remix that will put jazz and R&B listeners in the right vibe! Shaun and his long-time recording engineer buddy, Dik Shopteau knew right away that this new remix would captivate all audiences!

For decades, Shaun, no stranger to hits, has always surrounded himself with the very best, and so this latest remix was mixed and mastered by some of LA's greatest - mix engineer - David Rideau and mastering engineer - Steve Hall!

This song will be released to all radio programmers and streaming platforms on Monday, July 29th, 2024.
