

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Historic Community Dialogue to Foster Unity Between Black and Latino Communities:
"Unity: The Key to Our Survival"

AUSTIN, TEXAS – May 27, 2025 – A vital town hall meeting, "Unity: The Key to Our Survival," will bring together members of the Black and Latino communities in Austin to foster deeper understanding and strengthen solidarity on shared challenges. The event is set for Saturday, June 7, 2025, from 2:00 PM to 4:00 PM, at Texas Empowerment Academy, located at 5800 E. Parmer Lane, Austin, Texas. This event is free and open to all. Prior to the town hall, attendees are invited to a Reception at 1:00PM offering refreshments, vending opportunities, and a chance to meet the esteemed panelists in person.

The town hall aims to openly acknowledge existing issues and build stronger bonds of unity and understanding within and between these crucial community members.

The panel will feature:

- Bob Wallace, Tomorrow's Promise Foundation
- Minister Abel Muhammad, Latino Representative/Nation of Islam
- Jesus Mares, Community Activist
- Smackola, Artist, Producer
- Jules Ramirez, Austin Justice Coalition and Entrepreneur
- Queen Deelah, Artist, Activist, Entrepreneur

The "Community Voices Panel" will delve into shared histories, the pervasive effects of white supremacy, and areas of intersection relevant to both communities, such as education, health disparities, and criminal justice. A key segment will focus on demystifying immigration and how media narratives have been used as a divisive tool that often impacts both Black and Latino communities. Join us to be part of this crucial conversation about building a more unified and understanding community.

The public is also invited to attend the Muhammad Mosque #64 Sunday's services on June 8, 2025, at 10:00 AM, also held at Texas Empowerment Academy, 5800 E. Parmer Lane, Austin, Texas. Student Minister Abel Muhammad will deliver the keynote address, exploring the profound spiritual and practical implications of his subject: "Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God." His address is expected to provide inspiring insights into aligning one's life with divine purpose, offering guidance and encouragement for personal growth and community well-being.

Press Contact: secretarymm64@gmail.com. For more details, visit www.noiaustin.org.

About Nation of Islam Muhammad Mosque #64 (Austin, TX): We are dedicated to freedom, justice and equality as well as empowering the community through education, spiritual growth, and social upliftment. We invite everyone to be part of this transformative weekend!

###