Dual Enrollment

by Staff Reports

Dual Enrollment began at Hancock County High School more than a decade ago. This year, more students are enrolled than ever before.

Dual Enrollment is a partnership program between HCHS and local colleges or universities to provide students with the opportunity to earn college credit while they are still in high school. Students have the opportunity to complete more than a semester of college classes while still in school; however, some students have completed an associates degree through their dual enrollment credits.

According to Ms. Deb Gibson, school counselor, student enrollment in such programs is up significantly with 50% more students taking dual enrollment as compared to previous years. All together, there are 33 students taking 44 different courses through the program.

Earning college credit is not the only benefit to taking these courses. Students who take a certain number of courses are entitled to graduate with Distinction.

Welcome Back!

by Abigail Davis

As summertime dwindles away, it's a time for new beginnings, fresh starts, and, of course, a new school year!

It's officially time for homework, tests, and learning new things, but more importantly, it's time for expanding your horizons and getting the education needed for our next chapter.

Over the summer, many things have changed in the physical and academic element of Hancock High School to make it possible for students to have a more enjoyable experience, and for most seniors, it may be bittersweet.

The year was kicked off with a warm welcome from teachers and our new principal, Dr. Angela Kinsler. Among administrative changes, there has been a change of cafeteria scenery, free-roam break time has returned, and students have more room for mistakes and correction with the recent grade scale law.

Many clubs, teams, and administrations have begun their recruitments, and sports events have started to kick off, giving an opportunity for every student to find their place. With all the back-to-school events in full swing, many teachers and students have a positive outlook on the year to come.

Changes this year

by Dena Simpson

Hello students, parents, and faculty! We have begun a brand new school year here at Hancock County High School. With each new year, our school adjusts its regulations, in an attempt to better each of our individual educational experiences. There have been a few noticeable changes, but a lot will continue to stay the same. Some of the new rules/additions have been listed below, and you always have your student handbook to refer to.

Achievement of gold and silver cards result in new awards. Gold (All A's)- free admission to all home sporting events, one free block, banquet, catered lunch, and a $5.00 credit to the school store!

Silver (All A's and B's)- 50% admission to all home sporting events, banquet, catered lunch, and a $3.00 credit to the school store!

Break is back! For the past ~3 years we have had our break time inside of the classroom, but students can now socialize and purchase snacks/drinks in the lobby.

Fun Facts!

by Danny Gonzales

If you live or visit New York, people will say that the secret ingredient to their pizza is the water, however, if you ask why that is, nobody really knows.

The answer to that is surprisingly simple. The reason why the water in N.Y. is so special is due to the chemicals that are used to clean it. In order to turn it into drinkable water there are two chemicals we need to discuss. The two chemicals we will be focusing on are Chlorine and Fluoride.

Now, the reason why the pizza crust in N.Y. is thin is due to the fact that the water used in the dough contains less chlorine than most others, which in turn, make the pizza dough more stretchy and liquidy.

As for the Fluoride, it is typically seen in toothpaste to help strengthen our teeth, but if mixed into water and therefore into our dough it makes the bread much tougher, which prevents all of the added weight from the toppings to collapse the crust.

And that is why N.Y. water is the secret ingredient to New York's famous pizza pies!

Welcome Back!

This sad, but true, statement is very real for a fellow senior, Raegan Collins, who said, "It's going good, and I'm definitely sad that it's going to end."

In the past few years, students and teachers have all been negatively affected by COVID-19: cutting school years in half unexpectedly, shoving education into an online environment, and ripping away the extra-curricular events that almost every high schooler looks forward to. This year, with a positive beginning and warm welcome, has begun much better than those previously.

Although we know the warm welcome will soon be a sad goodbye for our seniors, it's safe to say that this year has a lot of promise and opportunity for every student who puts forth the effort to make it the best yet.

Changes this year

We now have a coffee bar during lunch! In order to use this new service, you must maintain proper behavior and make sure to get your serving of meat, fruit, and veggies!

No hats or hoods are allowed in the school building as a safety precaution.

Our school has updated their grading scale to align to new state guidelines.

On this topic, Ms. Kasey Fugate added, "The updated grading scale will be beneficial because it gives students more opportunities for academic achievement, and preparing them for college."

A: 90-100

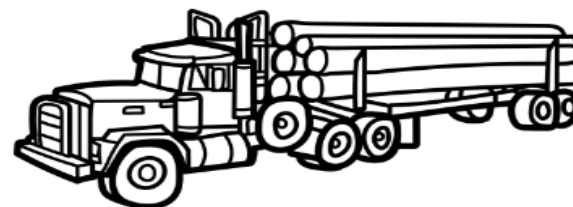

B: 80-89

C: 70-79

D: 60-69

F: 0-59

For any other questions about new guidelines, please refer to the current school handbook.

Volleyball Season Begins

by Treasure Williams

The official season for our lady Indians volleyball teams has officially begun. On August 18, 2022, our high school volleyball teams, varsity, and junior varsity, faced Cherokee in our gymnasium at HCHMS. The Lady Indians took a loss in the books for the district. However expect them to bounce back with better attitudes, have learned from their mistakes, play harder than before, and play to win. They will have played 3 more games in August. Hopefully they managed to pull the win at all of the games.

Ms. Autumn Collins, a teacher at HCHS as well as the high school volleyball team coach is pumped and hoping to pull all the wins.

When asking how she feels about the team she has made this year, Ms. Autumn said, "I am very excited for this season! We have some new teams that we have never played before and I feel like our lady Indians are ready for any challenge that comes their way. I hope that they will play with their heart and give 110% at every match."

These girls have a bright season ahead of them. With multiple games approaching, away and home. For seniors this year, the class of 2023, Reagan Collins #1, Cassi dalton #11, Madi Seal #4, Kaylynn Goins #14, and Madison Jarnigan #5. Make sure to show some extra love to these girls as it's the last year we see them playing on the court.

The first home game for September will be, on September 6th, against a long-time rival Cosby in many sports, starting at 5:00 Pm.

The Lady Indians faced off against the Cherokee Chiefs on August 18th.

September HOME games

- On Sept 12th, @ 5:30 p.m., opponent Clairborne
- On Sept 15th, @ 5:00 p.m., opponent North Greene (doubleheader)
- On Sept 19th, @ 5:00 p.m., opponent Hampton (lavender night)
- On Sept 20th, @ 5:00 p.m., opponent happy valley (senior night)
- On Sept 22nd, @ 5:00 p.m., opponent South Greene

Their full game schedule can be found on their very own volleyball book Facebook page or the doors of the gym at any time.

Dad Jokes with Mr. Steele

compiled by Mckynzie Roberts

I heard a funny joke about a boomerang, but I can't remember it. I'm sure it will come back to me eventually...

My friend broke her finger the other day. It was pretty bad, but on the other hand, she was completely fine.

I had a rough day, and then someone ripped pages out of my dictionary. Things just go from bad to worse! I can't find comfort and relax anymore, either.

The earth's rotation really makes my day.

Game On!

by Cassi Dalton

The Hancock County football team is back again for their upcoming 2022/2023 season.

Players and fans are excited to have back Friday night lights because all games last season were played on Mondays.

The official kickoff for the season will begin at home on September 9th. Players Mason Wallen, Joseph Van Breman, Dylan Zachery, Bryson Johnson, Joshua McClellan, and manager Tristan Koch will have to soak up every moment of this season as this is their senior year.

The team has played a few scrimmages so far this year. Most recently they played Cocke county and Dobyns-Bennett. The score for Cocke County vs. Hancock County was 0-0. The score for Dobyns-Bennett vs. Hancock County was 7-0.

Senior Mason Wallen stated, "All teammates tried their hardest during both games."

Home games for this season will be September 9th, September 19th, and October 17th.

"The season this far has been challenging at times due to not only the youth and inexperience of the team but also due to the cancellations and rescheduled games which makes things very hectic at times," said Mr. A.J. Arnold, coach of the Hancock County Indians. "That being said, the team this year has so much potential that nobody but the coaches have seen. I hope we can unlock that potential very soon and show all these doubters what Hancock County Football is about! These kids work hard and have so much passion that they are going to turn heads in the upcoming seasons. I believe in these kids, and I really want to see the community come out to support them. The future is bright for HCHS Football!"

For the seniors, these games may be bittersweet, but they hope that this season will be filled with fun and promise. So come out and support the Hancock County Indians!

Senior Positions

Dylan Zachary- receiver and defensive end.
Joseph Van Breman - lineman and defensive lineman.
Mason Wallen - quarterback and free safety.
Joshua McClellan- tight end and middle linebacker
Bryson Johnson-Wide receiver and corner

Student Talent Feature: Cadence Lambert

by Keirra Fugate

Here at HCMHS, many great artists are overlooked, and one of these talented creators is Cadence Lambert. Cadence, a Jr. here at Hancock High, does digital and physical works. Their preferred style of art is anime. They explain that their love for such a style came from watching anime at a young age. Though, such a detailed and vibrant piece took a long time to work up to for young Cadence. Cadence talks about the dedication it took to recreate the style.

"I've spent six years trying to learn how to do it," Lambert stated.

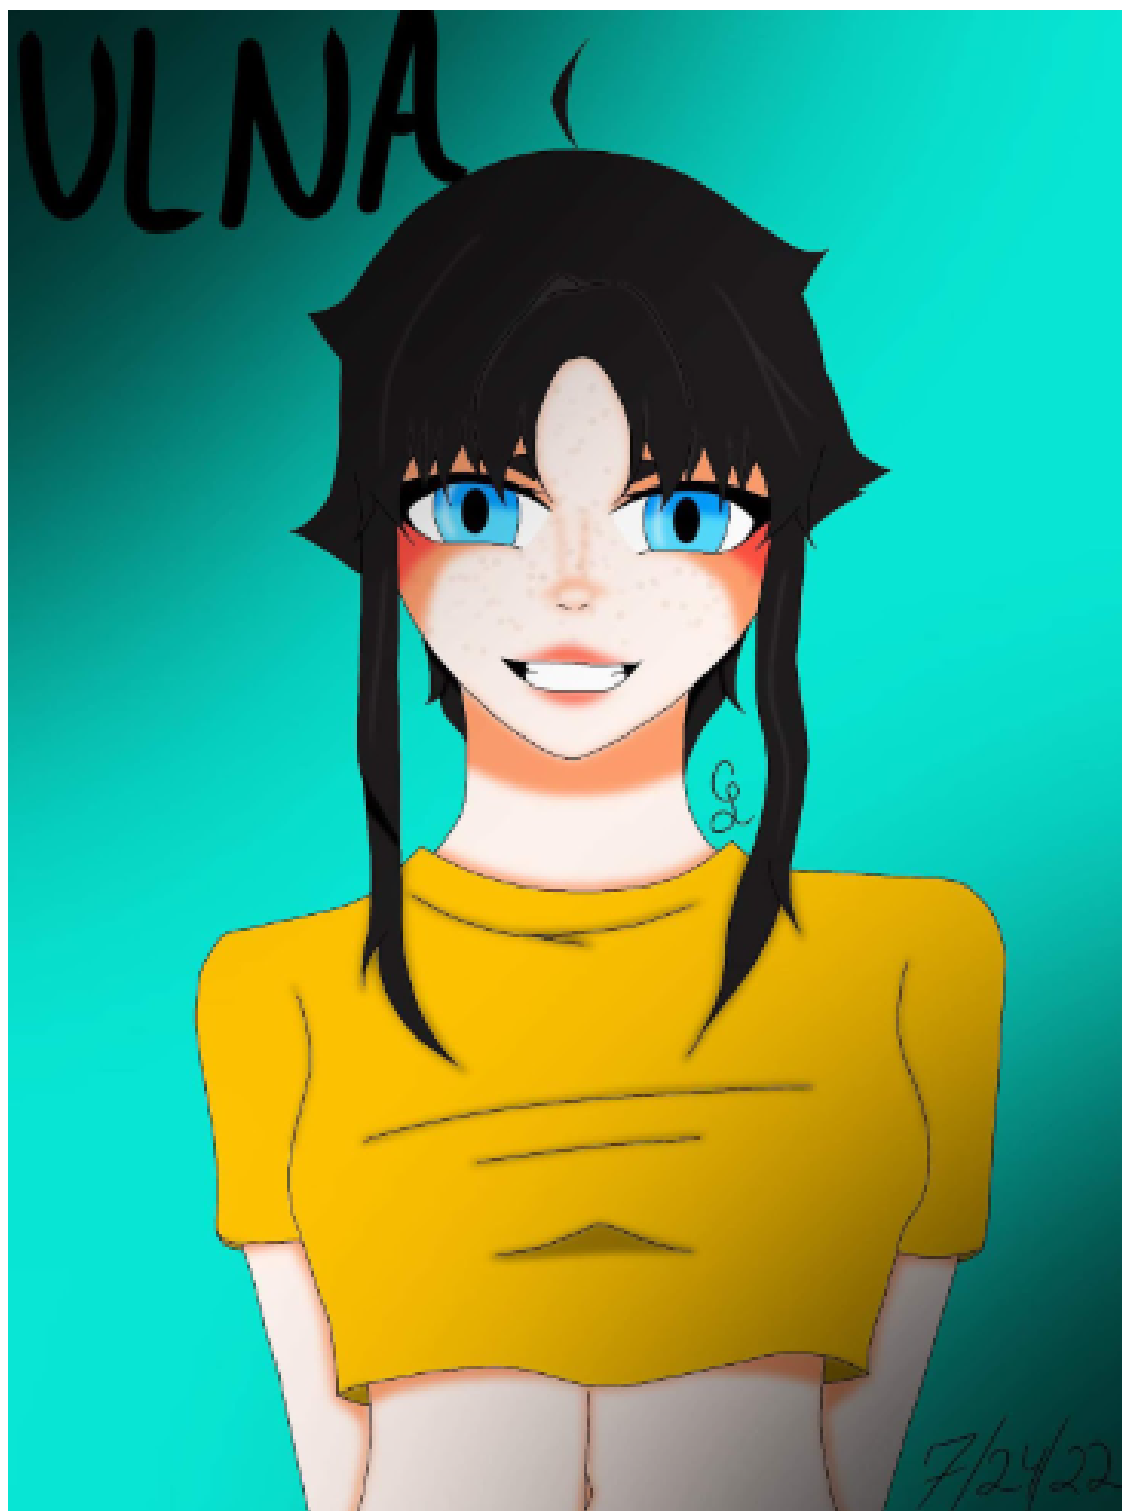

There is no doubt that sort of self discipline is a rarity and a true gem itself.

The picture displayed shows one of their original characters, Ulna, that was pieced together from different sparks of inspiration from many characters. According to Cadence, their inspiration never specifically comes from one thing.

There are always emotions, life situations, and media coming together to make such pieces. Knowing what piece of media the idea came from may not always be known; however, the faces on some of their art definitely displays the emotions at the time.

The facial expressions give people a little idea of what might be going on in Cadence's mind and why they might project this specific style or pieces of work.

If you are interested in being featured as a student artist, contact a member of the newspaper staff.

Local Elections by Tara Ferguson

In the recent election in Hancock County on August 4, 2022, there were many positions to run for.

For County Commissioner there were 2 positions, District 1 Seat B and District 7 Seat B. For District 1 Cruz Cope and Tommy Ray Jones ran for that. Cruz Cope won with 64% and Tommy Ray Jones lost with 36% and 138 total votes.

For District 7 Jack Johnson and Whitney Fleenor ran for it. Jack Johnson won by 54% and Whitney Fleenor lost by 46% with 304 total votes.

For School Board District 5 there was one position. David Jones won by 62% and William Pat Riley lost by 38% with 228 total votes.

For the Constable District 6 Brent Allen Hickey and Caleb Wolfe ran for that. Brant Allen Hickey won by 60% and Caleb Wolfe lost at 40% with 131 total votes.

After talking to a few people in the school building, some said a lot of the polls were very close. Some said there was a lot of drama and I was told who ran and won.

Madeline Dalton, junior at Hancock County High School, was invested in the elections this year.

"It was a good one this year," Dalton explained.

She said that the results surprised her, and she didn't expect the outcome.

World News: Mar-A-Lago by Tatum Ailey

On Monday, August 8, Mar-A-Lago, the private club and residency of former president Donald Trump in Palm Beach, Florida, was raided by the FBI. The FBI collected more than 11 sets of boxes of documents.

While the contents of the documents are unknown, but all were included in each form of document classification: confidential, secret, and then top secret. Some were also labeled TS/CI, which means top secret and/or sensitive compartment information.

Although they sought to get all documents, the main targets were documents that the Justice Department were afraid Trump might weaponize.

This isn't the first time the government collected documents from Trump: over the last 18 months Trump and the National Archives have been going back and forth getting back documents that Trump took with him when he left office.

The FBI was also sent an anonymous tip that Trump was hiding classified documents that he didn't intend to return at the private club. The whistleblower was most likely to be a former employee of the former president. Many Trump administration members believe it was Jared Kushner, Trump's Chief Advisor while in office.

"This just confirms that no one is above the law, even at the highest level," says Ms. Autumn Collins, Government and English teacher.

Andrew Tate: Personal Icon or Embarrassment?

by Emily Kyrk

Andrew Tate has taken the world by storm lately with his "words of wisdom." He is a famous British-American kickboxer who also considers himself the modern-day Batman. He lives a luxurious life with expensive cars and houses, and constantly flaunts his net worth. But there are thousands of people like him on social media, what makes Tate different?

Andrew Tate was born on December 14, 1986. At 35, he has been banned from Facebook and Instagram. Tate has blown up on TikTok as of lately with the hashtag #AndrewTate has over 13.2B views. Viewers have been split on his views. He's used a common tactic of saying controversial things and then reasonable points to get his name into the press. And it worked.

Tate's messages reflect a "mission" of bringing masculinity back. He's done this by going on multiple podcasts and degrading various subsets of people.

Back in 2016, Tate was a contestant on the reality show "Big Brother." However, Tate was kicked off of the show after a video surfaced of him beating a woman with a belt for "not listening to him." He has also been quoted on Twitter making fun of the Me Too movement through blaming women for being victims of sexual assault.

Some people have been split on whether or not this is a cash farm tactic or if these are his actual beliefs. Another debate that people have used his name in is whether or not people should respond to his statements because responding to his remarks only brings his name into the press and gives him more attention, money, and fame. He's had thousands of news articles written about him in only a year.

Whether or not you support Andrew Tate or believe the media should keep publicizing his statements, we can all agree that he has taken social media by storm and has made very controversial remarks during his time of fame. He continues to garner fame and fortune to fuel his own views and impact the views of teens and young adults.

Join the Clubs!

by Alyssa Lyons

This year there are both new and old clubs that many teachers and students are excited for. Admittedly, this school is relatively smaller and has not truly been able to offer the abundance of opportunities like other schools have. But this year, our staff has opted to try and change that with these clubs.

When asked what her objective was for her club, HOSA, which specializes in the nursing field, she replied, "HOSA gives students insight on healthcare and gives the opportunity to decide whether or not they are interested in healthcare while they have time to decide."

Ms. Kasey Fugate with the student council is also excited for this year.

"I want to give students a voice and an option to choose for themselves how they affect this school, the student council gives them that opportunity."

Ms. Kasey was very astonished by the amount of interest in the student council, and has a lot in store for the students this year.

Second semester last year, Profesora Sarah Seal started a new Spanish Club. When interviewed about this new club, she responded, "I think this year we'll have a more clear vision on what to accomplish and organize more activities." She also strongly encourages people to join, saying, "We will be cooking Hispanic foods, watching Hispanic films, and celebrating hispanic cultures."

All of our teachers and staff encourage students to join these clubs, and to expand your opportunities!

Upcoming Events

by Anna Hopkins

The first month back to school was crazy, but students and teachers look forward to more activities in September.

On September 1st, progress reports went home. Please review progress reports, and make changes if needed. Contact the office for more information on tutoring.

The Crusades will return to Hancock County High School this year. High Schoolers can participate on the 13th and 14th of this month if interested.

Fall photos have been rescheduled to the 19th. Plan accordingly.

The week of the 19th through the 23rd is also post-secondary planning week for seniors. Encourage your seniors to make plans for what comes next after graduation.

Jostens will be in the library on the 26th

Benchmarks will take place the last week of the month. Make sure to get plenty of rest before then!

Lunch Ratings with Officer Randy and Ms. Brenda by Matthew Smith

This year, Officer Randy Mitchell and Ms. Brenda are going head to head on lunch ratings!

Both people have a lot at stake in this battle. Below are the ratings for each week in August.

To get these scores, I took an average of the ratings from 0 to 10 from both Randy and Brenda. As you can see, there is quite a difference between the ratings.

Week	Randy	Brenda
1 (1-5)	5.4/10	9.6/10
2 (8-12)	5/10	9.6/10
3 (15-19)	4.8/10	9.74/10
4 (22-26)	5.4/10	10/10
5 (29-31)	5.3/10	10/10

Letter from Dr. Angela Kinsler

Students, we want to make this year as successful as possible for you. We do realize that this is a very important transition for each of you, whether Middle or High School.

This transition from childhood to young adulthood brings with it many changes, challenges and major life events. We will continue to strive to implement the best instruction, advice and encouragement to fit your individual needs.

Wishing you all the best today and always!

-Ms. Kinsler

Letter from Ms. Sarah Seal

Thank you all so much for taking the time to read this edition of The Hancock Times! This paper is a project of love and labor for our newspaper staff.

Moving forward, the paper will be released on the first Friday of the month. This month, we were fashionably late, but be on the lookout moving forward for the paper to be released on schedule.

I am so proud to have the ability to work with such bright, passionate students. Each month, these students work hard to write articles and generate content that reflects the experience of high school students here in East Tennessee. As we all know, high school is such a weird, wonderful time. This paper hopefully reflects that experience for readers. We want to highlight the great things happening around us, but we also have the responsibility as journalists to cover topics that represent the darker side of reality too.

Please continue to support our students as they develop their skills as writers, photographers, and editors. Your support and love means more to them than anything I could say.

If there is a particular topic you would like to see in the paper, please contact one of the staff members.

See you at our next release!
