

Dear Joe,

Urban Boatbuilders is thrilled and grateful for the investment from the Midway Mens Club. The generous support we receive from within our community and beyond means everything to us.

With your support, we foster an environment where young people across the Twin Cities have opportunities to work with their hands, overcome obstacles, and build upon their skills.

We are humbled by your donation and support for our mission to empower youth. Thank you for contributing to our vision for a world in which all youth have access to an education that empowers them to use their hands, heart, and mind to be engaged community members and environmental stewards.

Sincerely,

Marc Hosmer
Executive Director
