Spotlight

Aubrey Quinn, Intensive Intervention Coordinator

Aubrey responds to, addresses, and collaborates on urgent interventions as needed. She provides mentoring and training support to case managers for unusual or sporadic situations, as well as monitors and tracks incident reporting and trends. She provides case management to Hancock and surrounding counties.

What led you to the social services field?

I have always enjoyed volunteering and working with others in my community. Going into college, I didn't have a specific career in mind but knew Social Work would allow me to have options without having to immediately choose a path. I have several family members and family friends with Intellectual/ Developmental Disabilities which led me to love volunteering at a local weekend and summer camp for adults with IDD. I started working with the IDD population in college as RHS and PAC staff and it was an easy decision to find a full-time job doing similar work.

What is a random fact about yourself?

My favorite animal is the Orca Whale, and I would love to see them in the wild one day.

What do you love most about your job?

I love getting to know my individuals and their families; I love getting to see and hear about their successes. I love being able to build connections with them, talking about their interests, desires, and goals.

What is a favorite pastime you enjoy?

I enjoy spending time with my husband and our friends; it really doesn't matter if we're playing games, watching a movie, having dinner, or just sitting around talking. Recently, my husband and I have gotten more into board games and have been enjoying game nights with family and friends.

Do you have pets or kids?

I have one daughter, Emma, and a very spoiled puppy, Moose (all dogs are puppies 😊). Moose also loves my job at Connections because it means he can always be snuggled up in his bed under my desk when I work from home
