Friends of The Big Empty

“This is a land that you have to become a participant in. It’s not going to jump up and hit you in the face. You have to become part of it. You have to stop, look and see, and imagine.”

Greetings from Friends of The Big Empty!

We are a nonprofit corporation designed to bring local communities together who are also located in The Big Empty. The first 11 of 22 counties include: Baylor, Cottle, Dickens, Foard, Haskell, Kent, King, Knox, Throckmorton, Stonewall, and Wilbarger.

Who We Are

The purpose of Explore The Big Empty is to educate the public about the history, heritage and availability for tourism of public and private resources within counties of Texas known as "The Big Empty". Along with our nonprofit corporation, Friends of The Big Empty, we are working to bring together the people, places, and sights to see.

Our Goal

The means of providing such education includes publishing friendsofthebigempty.org, explorethebigempty.com and printed materials, educational meetings, and public speaking opportunities. We use our facebook page ExploreTheBigEmpty and our Instagram page FriendsOfTheBigEmpty to help spread the word on events and activities.

Anyone Can Participate

We invite anyone to join our effort to make the Empty the destination of tourism in all the counties involved, through good photography and narrative, places to visit, events, etc. We are interested in receiving photos with narratives by those who have an interest in furthering the scope of this tourism effort. We maintain a list of local events and request that anyone use the form at the bottom of the page to list theirs on explorethebigempty.com/event-calendar
